GREEN PLEADS FOR 30-HOUR WEEK

'BOLD ACTION' RECOMMENDED TO PRESIDENT

Union Labor Chief Declares Ten Million Idle Workers Must Be Absorbed—Says Between Three and Four Million Re-employed—Silent on Roosevelt's Attitude.

WASHINGTON, April 30—(AP) — An urgent plea for support of the compulsory 30-hour-week bill was put before President Roosevelt today by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and chairman Connery of the house labor committee.

They declined to discuss the president's attitude with reporters upon leaving the white house.

The administration has been seeking shorter working hours through the national recovery program.

"We are greatly disturbed," said Green. "The National recovery program is at a dead standstill.

"It has resulted in the re-employment of between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 idle men, but there are 10,000,000 more idle workers who must be absorbed.

"Labor is convinced that something very bold must be done to take up the slack of unemployment."

Representative Connery, a democrat from Massachusetts, pointed out that there is a flexible provision in the proposed legislation whereby a board created by the president would have authority to exempt the 30 hour requirement for emergencies.

WILLIAM GREEN.

SUGAR BILL MAY BE SIGNED SOON

WASHINGTON, April 30—(AP)—The sugar production control bill was returned to the white house this morning by Secretary Wallace and President Roosevelt probably will sign it in the next 48 hours.

Governor Winship of Puerto Rico has asked to present a protest on the legislation. The president probably will receive him tomorrow.

'MACHINE GUN' GANG HUNTED

Armed Group Reported Near Plattsmouth; Heading Here.

State Sheriff Fred Benton Monday afternoon summoned Lincoln officers to look for another of the many "machine gun" cars that have been reported near Plattsmouth. The riot car of the Lincoln force was sent out with heavily-armed officers to watch highway No. 6 outside of Lincoln.

Benton said that shortly after noon a man reported that he was stopped by occupants of a Packard sedan three miles south of Plattsmouth, and asked about the shortest route to Denver, particularly about the route that goes through Lincoln.

Benton said the man reported that he saw machine guns in the car, and that one of the passengers who stepped out on the road was carrying a .45 automatic. Five men were reported to be in the car.

The car was said to have yellow wire wheels and to be carrying an Illinois license plate, No. 4894, on the rear. No plate was seen on the front of the machine.

BULLET-PROOF GLASS FOR CARS

The purchase by Mayor Fenton B. Fleming of bullet-proof windshields and right front door windows of seven police automobiles at a cost of about $150 per car, was authorized by the city council Monday. The windshields and side glass will be equipped with portholes made by the National Manufacturing Co. of Lincoln.

The equipment will be bought in the open market under an emergency resolution, upon which the commissioners agreed. A representative of a glass company was present at the meeting.

Specifications written by City Engineer D. L. Erickson provide that the glass shall be 1 1-8 inches thick and that the price include the portholes, frames and installation. The contract provides for payment after September.

How the glass in the door will be installed, will not be determined until after an inspection by Police Captain Paul Shively, and Carl Fisher, deputy city engineer of cars similarly equipped by the Omaha police. It was thought, however that the glass, when not in use, will swing upward from the top of the door, and be held to the roof by clasps. It can be dropped into place readily, in case of a gun fight.

R. A. Wilson, Lincoln representative for an eastern glass company, displayed a sample of bullet-proof glass, Monday morning at police headquarters. The glass which the department is considering withstands .45 caliber machine gun bullets. A test was made at police headquarters Monday morning with a machine gun and a .38 caliber service revolver and neither penetrated at a distance of 25 feet.

Wilson said the glass, which weighs fifteen pounds per square foot, will not turn aside highpowered rifle bullets unless contact is made at a 45 degree angle, or at considerable distance.

HAGEMAN BOY IS WOUNDED ACCIDENTALLY

Bullet Pierces Child's Abdomen; Expected To Recover.

JOHN, 10, IS VICTIM OF 'EXPERIMENTING'

Brother, 14, Was Holding Gun When Mishap Occurred.

Accidentally shot while he and his brother examined a .45 caliber pistol, John Hageman, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hageman, 1920 Perkins boulevard, lay in a very serious condition with a bullet wound through his abdomen Monday afternoon at Lincoln General hospital.

X-ray examination showed the bullet touched a part of the spinal column and the liver, but did not puncture the intestines or other vital organs, hospital attendants said.

Expected To Recover.

Early Monday afternoon the lad was resting easy. Mr. Hageman, the father of the boy, quoted Dr. Clarence Emerson as giving John more than an even chance of recovery, barring complications.

The accident occurred shortly after John and his brother, Robert, 14, finished their breakfast Monday, and decided to have a peek at the automatic pistol which they and their father had taken on a target-shooting excursion Sunday afternoon.

Although Mr. Hageman had brought the pistol from his office, he left it in the basement of his home Monday morning. During breakfast, the boys talked of the gun and upon finishing their meal ran downstairs, pajama-clad, to hold the gun once more.

Cautioned By Father.

Robert told his father that they found the gun and the clip on a shelf, where Mr. Hageman had placed them after cleaning the pistol Sunday evening. After taking the gun upstairs, the brothers experimented with the clip, slipping it in the butt of the pistol. The gun was in the hands of the older brother when it was discharged.

Mr. Hageman stated that he had explained the working of the gun to the boys and cautioned them concerning it. He said that he was very careful in leaving the gun unloaded after he cleaned it.

"Somehow," he said, "they must have pumped a cartridge into the barrel. Neither of them seem to know just what happened, but suddenly the gun fired, striking John."

Although the shot entered the right side of the abdomen and then passed through the trunk, emerging toward the back on the left side, John did not lose consciousness. Called from his office, Mr. Hageman took the boy to the hospital in his car.

Scottsbluff Boy Dies.

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb., April 30—(AP)—Fourteen year old Herman Batt Son of George Batt, well known McGrew farmer, died in a hospital here Saturday night from a wound received when a shotgun discharged accidentally. He was leaning on the gun in a field near his home and the charge struck him in the abdomen.

NO DECISION ON DRY VIOLATORS

WASHINGTON, April 30—(AP)—The supreme court refused today to decide whether all now serving prison sentences for violation of the national prohibition law must be released.

The high court recently ruled that all pending cases charging violation of the federal prohibition law must be dismissed.

It did not, however, decide whether those serving sentences for violating the law should be freed.

Numerous Federal courts have ordered the release of such prisoners.

When the Federal courts in Pennsylvania refused to direct the release of Alfred R. Nerbonne,

$100 WORTH OF GOLD IS STOLEN

Dr. C. V. Cross Office Broken Into Some Time Sunday.

Gold worth $100 and a dollar's worth of postage stamps were stolen some time Sunday from the office of Dr C V Cross dentist, at 225 National Bank of Commerce building, he reported to police.

Dr Cross said that apparently the thief was familiar with the office layout for nothing else appeared to have been touched He related that his office was similarly robbed about a year ago and that the same burglar may be responsible for both break-ins.

The gold was taken from drawers in the dentist's laboratory. Entrance to the office apparently was gained by inserting a knife in the door lock.

Jurgensen Is 'Governor' But Office Vacant

Acting Executive Fails Show Up At Capitol Monday Morning.

Lieutenant Governor Jurgensen remained away from the capitol Monday forenoon and did not function in his new capacity as acting governor of Nebraska. It was stated at the executive office by H. B. Porterfield, secretary to Governor Bryan, that if anything came up requiring Jurgensen's signature or any official action on his part the latter would be notified and would come to the capitol.

"Mr. Jurgensen understands, of course, that he is welcome here at any time," said Porterfield, "but I presume he is looking after his private business until we send him word that there is something for him to attend to."

A telegram received by Porterfield, sent by Governor Bryan from Salem, Ill., the old family home, said the governor, his wife, and nephew were starting from there at 10 a. m. Monday to continue their journey to Washington for the unveiling of the W. J. Bryan statue on Thursday.

ROBLES FAMILY MAKES APPEAL TO ABDUCTORS

Grandfather Returns From Unexplained Trip to Mexico.

TUCSON, Ariz., April 30—(AP)—Bernabe Robles, aged grandfather of kidnaped June Robles, returned at noon today from a mysterious errand in the interior of Sonora, Mexico, and spokesmen for the family appealed publicly to the abductors, declaring money to meet the $15,000 ransom demand "will be ready" when a contact is arranged.

The grizzled former cattle baron's sudden reappearance after his unexplained Mexico trip of a night and a half a day was almost simultaneous with the first public overture to deal with 6-year-old June's abductors.

The circumstances gave impetus to reports that definite arrangements for an exchange were being made on the part of the family, and that final details, including the preparation of the ransom money, had awaited only the grandfather's return.

$2,000,000,000 STABILIZATION FUND CREATED

NO STATEMENT ON STEP BY TREASURY

May Be Used to Buy and Sell Currencies and Buying Bonds.

WASHINGTON, April 30—(AP)—The treasury formally created a $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund today, apparently depositing $200,000,000 with the federal reserve system for active use and holding the remaining $1,800,000,000 in reserve.

To accomplish the transaction of officially setting up the fund appropriated by congress for guiding the dollar's course, the entire $2,000,000,000 was carried as expended on April 27.

Previously the $2,810,000,000 of profit on devaluation had been designated in the treasury statement simply as "increment resulting from reduction in the weight of the gold dollar."

Treasury officials refused to discuss the step and said the daily statement must speak for itself. There was no indication whether the $200,000,000 given the reserve system had been used.

What Happened On Statement.

What happened on the statement was this: A $1,800,000,000 "exchange stabilization fund" was entered as a liability against the gold stock of $7,755,670,740. Simultaneously the gold certificate fund of the federal reserve board jumped $101,000,000.

This was interpreted by experts as indicating a treasury deposit of this amount out of the stabilization fund. It was believed the other $99,000,000 previously was deposited in the same way. For some weeks the treasury has been depositing with the reserve banks more gold in the form of certificates than was received in actual metal.

The stabilization fund may be employed in buying and selling the currencies and in purchasing government bonds. It represents part of the profit from gold devaluation.

Carrying the $2,000,000,000 as an expenditure on one day also slashed the size of the cash balance from $4,333,584,692 to $2,328,525,606.

NATHAN GOLD NOW HOME.

Nathan Gold, who recently underwent an operation is making rapid recovery, it was announced Monday with his return from Lincoln General hospital to his home, 2108 South Twenty-fourth street.

Aitken New Head Of Country Club

William I. Aitken was elected president of the board of directors of the Lincoln Country club at a meeting of that group Monday noon. R. W. DeVoe was elected vice-president and E. W. Truman, secretary-treasurer.

JAPAN ACCEPTS POLICY OF 'OPEN DOOR' IN CHINA

Informs Britain She Will Not Interfere With Rights of Others.

LONDON, April 30—(AP)—Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, told the house of commons today that Japan has fully accepted the policy of the "open door" for all nations in China.

The foreign secretary's statement was made before a house packed with members and spectators anxious to hear the government's attitude on the Japanese "hands off China" doctrine, unofficially stated April 17.

He said Japan has informed the British government it has no intention of interfering with "the common rights" of other powers in China and has reaffirmed its policy of the maintenance of the open door.

He said Japan had given assurance that she will observe the nine-power treaty. (The treaty, signed by Japan, China, Great Britain, France, Holland and other nations, certifies the right of the signatories to carry on legitimate business in China and guarantees the integrity of that nation.)

U. S. Delays Statement.

WASHINGTON, April 30—(AP)—Secretary Hull has completed a study of Japan's statement of policy toward China and may issue a statement this afternoon explaining the United States' attitude.

No definite decision had been reached, however, as to whether an official statement would be made.

In view of Japan's conciliatory attitude and assurances that she would maintain the "open door" policy in China, it may be decided to make no official comment.

'Boss' McLaughlin Makes Confession

Chicagoan Admits Handling $53,000 of Bremer Ransom Money.

CHICAGO, April 30—(AP)—John J "Boss" McLaughlin has confessed handling $53,000 of the ransom collected from Edward Bremer, St. Paul banker, the federal bureau of investigation disclosed today.

McLaughlin was held in $100,000 bond Saturday for removal to St. Paul for trial under the "Lindbergh" kidnaping act.

His arrest followed the recovery of $2,665 in $5 and $10 bills identified as part of the ransom money. The "hot" currency was found on William E. Vidler, a gambler, last Thursday.

Melvin H. Purvis, chief of the Chicago office of the bureau of investigation, announced that McLaughlin had made a full confession of his part in the disposition of portions of the $200,000 ransom paid for Bremer's freedom after 23 days a captive of kidnapers.

Four men are in federal custody—McLaughlin and Vidler already arraigned, and two others awaiting the issuance of warrants charging them also with conspiracy

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO MARSHALL FUND

While search goes on all over the country for gangsters and bandits, Lincoln residents can best show they believe in this fight to the finish on gangdom by assisting the W. A. Marshall family with the heavy financial burden they incurred when the life of 13-year-old Laceen Marshall was snuffed out by a gunman's bullet. An additional $15 was received Monday. All contributions should be sent to: The Marshall Fund, care of The Lincoln Newspapers.

FOUR, POSSIBLY DILLINGER MEN, MAKE ESCAPE

Quartet, Two of Whom "Looked Like" Dillinger and "Baby Face" Nelson, Climax Two Mile Chase With Hand to Hand Battle in Bellwood, Ill.—Policeman Injured

CHICAGO, April 30—(AP)—Four gunmen climaxed a two mile chase with a hand to hand battle with police in suburban Bellwood early today — and the officers said one of the four, all of whom escaped, "looked like" John Dillinger, the hunted killer.

Another of them, said Police Lieut. Joseph Hagemeister, resembled George "Baby Face" Nelson, the little gunner of the Dillinger gang, and a third bore a likeness to Henry Fox, another Dillinger aide.

The chase ended when the hoodlums disarmed the officers. One of the men hit Policeman Harry Whalen over the head with a machine gun before speeding away into the darkness with his companions.

Whalen and two other officers, Lieut. Joseph Hagemeister and Policeman Gus Mendze, began the chase in a police car when the gunmen's machine failed to halt at a red light.

Two of the gunmen jumped out. One, armed with a machine gun, forced the three officers to give up their weapons and struck Whalen. The other two men, remaining in the car, held machine guns on the officers.

Resume Their Flight.

The gunmen's car, a new dark (Ford) sedan, was believed to have

SCOUTING GAINS SHOW RECOVERY

Pote Tells Executives Business Upturn Is Indicated.

A note of optimism for the Boy Scout program in carrying out its 1934 objectives and its indication of returning prosperity was injected by Harold P. Pote Monday morning into the four-day conference being held at the Lincoln hotel. Mr. Pote, national director of the personnel division of the Boy Scouts, is here from New York City as one of the principal speakers at the convention of scout executives of Region 8. Nearly a hundred leaders from Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado, Missouri, Kansas and Iowa are attending.

"During the first three months of this year there has been a 14 per cent growth in leaders and 11 per cent among boys, in the scout organization", Mr. Pote said. "There is a grand total membership today of 958,000 as against 925,000 last year. Budgets of local councils are much easier to raise than they have been in four years. Men and boys are responding as never before."

The general scout curve is upwards", the speaker averred. "And this is a good indication of better times, for when people have money and time for this type of a program it shows that prosperity is indeed returning." Mr. Pote spoke on "Reasons for Optimism in the National Outlook. He also spoke at the noon luncheon on personnel problems.

Monday was largely taken up with technical discussions of intra-organization affairs. Among those who led discussion groups were B. B. Dawson, J. C. Underwood, Jean Bader, E. E. Skinner, John D. Wright, T. B. Hunt, James Hiner, jr., and V. V. Allen

Rex I. Gray of St. Joseph presided at the morning session and W. C. Souder was chairman of the luncheon meeting. Monday evening, following the dinner at which L. C. Haugness will preside, a round-up under the title "Pioneer Daze" will be staged under the direction of B. B. Dawson. Raymond F Low, Sea Scout vice commander of Region 8, will describe a new plan for recognition of Sea Scout ships and for a regional flagship competition.

DISTRICT WILL REFUND BONDS

At a special session Monday the board of education decided to refund $304,000 of optional 4 per cent bonds which would have fallen due Tuesday, and accepted the offer of the First Trust company to do the refunding at an estimated saving to the district of $11,700.

The offers of three firms were considered. The First Trust company's offer was to refund the bonds at 3¼ per cent until 1941, at 3½ per cent for 1942 and 1943, and at 3¾ per cent until 1952, when the bonds will fall due.

The Kirkpatrick, Pettis, Loomis company of Omaha, tendered an offer of refunding at 3.65 per cent until 1952 with a premium of $750. This offer, the board estimated would save only $10,944. The Ware, Hall company of Omaha offered to refund at 3¼ per cent at par with accrued interest, and with a premium of $751.

All the plans provided for retiring about $19,000 worth of the bonds each year from May 1, 1937 to May 1, 1952.

As Rogers Sees It

GILROY, Cal., April 30—Mrs. Rogers and I driving along from Fresno to San Francisco seeing the ranches, run in at Willie Tevis' ranch (the champion endurance rider) and there at a barbecue was the sultan of Jahore, the biggest game hunter of all the Indian royal pack and tremendously popular over there and a regular guy.

Well I got to tell you how I talked myself out of seeing his palace and stable and horses. He is just out of Singapore. I come in on a boat from Hongkong going to take the plane the next morning for London, so was going to drive to his estate that afternoon. But I talked at the Rotary club luncheon and did I talk; I must have blathered for hours, bored the whole of Singapore and missed the palace of Jahore. That's one case in history where a long winded speaker suffered in the long run more than his listeners.

Yours, WILL.

Dismantling Of Prison Factory Begun Monday; Kavanaugh Puzzled About Finding New Work For Men

Within a week's time the state prison factory will be empty and silent.

Work of dismantling the extensive equipment owned by the Oberman Manufacturing company of Jefferson City, Mo., was begun Monday morning because of national code provisions which virtually destroys the market for prison-made goods. R. H. Coonce, manager of the factory, who is supervising packing and shipment of the machinery, said he expected the work to be completed by next Monday. He will leave on that day for Jefferson City, Mo., to take charge of a plant there.

The closing of the factory, which employs 552 men, raises a new administrative problem for Deputy Warden Dan Kavanaugh who is directing affairs at the institution during Warden W. T. Fenton's leave of absence. For a time, Kavanaugh said, he will be able to keep the men busy at improvement tasks, but some organized employment must be substituted as soon as possible

"It is an old adage of prison management" he declared, "that men who are busy have no time to be discontented. We are now writing code authorities to find what type of constructive labor will be permitted within prisons and we hope to establish such an enterprise as soon as possible"

The prison factory, at which approximately 150 dozen shirts and 150 dozen pairs of pants are turned out daily, was set up in January of 1922. The Oberman compay also installed the pants factory at the men's reformatory here and it turns out 40 pairs daily.

Garments were still being made at the factory Monday but machines were being packed and made ready for shipment. As each machine was dismantled manufacturing operations at the point ceased

Even if the penitentiary is allowed by code authorities to set up its own industry, that cannot be effected until a legislative appropriation is received, Kavanaugh said.

Heavy Steers At Omaha Bring $8.50

OMAHA, April 30—(AP)—Choice heavy steers, which in recent weeks have shown their greatest strength on the Omaha market since October, 1932, today established another new high when August Peterson of Avoca, Ia., sold 20 head of highly finished Hereford steers at $8.50 a hundredweight. They averaged 1,328 pounds. Peterson topped last week's market also with a load of 1,040 pound steers that brought $8.40. The market here today was an active affair as far as choice heavy steers were concerned.

Seized in Bremer Kidnaping Case

Driest April In Quarter Century Closes Here; Mercury Hits Season High of 87; Farmers Are Worried

The driest April in Lincoln since 1910 and one of the windiest in that 24 year period drew to an unmourned close Monday with midsummer temperatures and still no signs of moisture.

The hot weather made its arrival Sunday, reaching a new seasonal high of 87 degrees at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The previous high mercury mark was 85 degrees on April 10. Only last Monday the temperature sank to 29 degrees for an all-time low for April 25 here. Cool days were frequent during the month.

At 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, the temperature had mounted to 83 degrees, foreshadowing possibility that the mercury would reach Sunday's mark before the close of the day. The temperature went no lower than 62 degrees Sunday night.

April's total precipitation in Lincoln totaled only .35 of an inch The 1910 record minimum is .02 of an inch. Only once since the record was established has the deficiency of rainfall closely approximated that of this year. That was in 1926 when .36 of an inch was all the moisture recorded. The next least amount of rainfall for April during the last ten years occurred in 1926 when 1.18 inches was received. The normal for the month is 2.53 of an inch here, the weather bureau reported.

Little more than one-third the normal amount of moisture has been received in the first four months of 1934. The normal precipitation up to May 1 is 5.39 inches whereas only 2.18 inches has been received this year, making a deficiency of 3.21 inches. It may be seen from these statistics that the entire rainfall received since the first of the year does not equal the normal for April alone.

Farmers Fear Failure.

As farmers everywhere watch apprehensively for signs of moisture, County Agent J. F. Purbaugh announced he is receiving reports from farmers in the southern part of the county expressing fear much of their wheat has already been irreparably damaged.

"I am in hopes that a good rain will yet bring out most of the crop

Judith Lane

by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Oil has been struck upstream from the Rio Diablo dam, which Judith Dale is building according to Big Tom Bevins' plan, with the fortune he left her for the purpose. She fears her workmen may be stampeded by the strike, and has arranged to take them to the scene, and provide a midnight lunch for them when they return. The oil drilling has been financed by Morton Lampere, who is trying to divert the Bevins money from the dam to the pockets of Mrs. Bevins and her daughter.

Chapter 38.
NORMAN AGAIN.

Sinclair, proprietor of the Elite Eating House, had been a top sergeant in the Marine Corps during the war. Judith went directly to him, told him what she would need and appointed him "Major" of the commissary department. He was to organize the other restaurant men, one to swing lumber into long tables, another to see about coffee, a third to organize the women into small groups.

Judith joined one of these groups. She cut bread, spread it, slipped slices of ham, of bologna, of cheese, of pressed meat, of chicken, of roast, between the bread.

Excited voices were constantly plying her with questions and she was constantly answering.

There were times when her weary muscles rebelled and she wished she were a thin slice of something to be slipped between sheets. She began to look upon her bed as a sandwich, herself as a filling, laughed at herself for thinking it, and then found Delphy at her side with a cup of coffee.

"Mr Larson, he say he's back with one truck load and you're to come along over next trip."

Judith agreed wearily. She left the big tent with its makeshift tables, piles of sandwiches and washboilers of coffee, its laughing women, its returning truck loads of excited men talking "Oil—oil."

She climbed into the high seat of a gravel truck, sat between the driver and Larson. "Sandwich" she thought sleepily.

The shout of men in the truck awakened her after a long lapse of semi-slumber. This time her eyes saw twinkling lights, saw the skeleton derrick, looming ahead, saw men running like pygmies about a roped off enclosure.

"There she is!"

Larson helped her down, steadied her a moment, then they walked over to the lighted area. Judith stepped in something that squashed under her feet. Oil...the place was drenched with it.

"She came in so fast we couldn't cap her," one man was saying excitedly.

Judith looked at him and then at the man to whom he was speaking, an oil-field worker, evidently, from his stained clothes. She started, leaned forward, peering intently, then closed her eyes and clutched at Larson's sleeve. The man was her husband, Norman Dale.

Judith Dale opened here eyes slowly. Larson, intent upon the scene before him, had not noticed. She looked past him to the man who had been talking to Norman Dale. He was still there but Norman had vanished.

Perhaps she was wrong. Perhaps she had longed so to see him that she fancied some person similar to him was he. This man had looked at her and his eyes had seemed to widen in surprise. Of course she hadn't seen him clearly, his hat brim was tipped forward, his face covered with several day's growth of beard. Norman shaved every day.

"That man, the one you were talking to when I came up, where did he go?" She had leaned across Larson addressing the man on the other side.

"He reminded me so much of a friend of mine, would you mind telling me his name?"

"Let's see, now what do they call him. Of course his nickname's Professor, because he talks so booky, and I think his other name is Jackson."

"Has he been in camp long?"

"Not so very long 'bout a month or so, fine fellow." The man turned away.

Judith didn't sleep on the return trip. Perhaps Norman was there within a few miles of her, had been there right along and hadn't come near.

So he'd left Lampere, she thought in derision. Perhaps he'd left Lampere's office. Could he have been the man who had talked to Scoggins, his oil man? But no, Scoggins would have remembered him as being her husband, Professor Jackson. Was he spying there for Lampere?

No use thinking about it, her weary mind protested. A sleep and tomorrow she would go back and look for him.

But when she awakened she did not call for a horse and ride over as she had intended. What could she say if she located him? If he had wanted to see her, he'd had a month in which to visit Big Tom Town.

She stuck, literally and figuratively. It seemed as the summer progressed that she was glued to the high stool over her drawing board, checking progress with Big Tom's specifications. The heat burned down through the boards of her shack until even Delphy, who usually congealed in the winter and thawed into comfort at midsummer, admitted it "am quite wa'm."

Cunard sent insulated board up from Laredo, which helped a little. Awnings at the windows, made by some of the engineers from old canvas and daubed with vari-colored paint, added to the comfort. Delphy's window boxes with their profusion of petunias and nasturtiums broke the drabness of the outlook.

Down in Big Tom Town, tents and motor houses were graced with coffee tins, sprouting blossoms, gifts of seed from Delphy.

And then the storm season announced its approach with brassy sky and sultry heat. For days it seemed the air was filled with flinty bits of bronze. Judith watched the sky with apprehension, held long consultations with Scoggins and Scofield. The dam town had grown to a dangerous size, if one were to find place for them in the safety of ship rock.

"It wouldn't any place else in the world," Judith agreed, "but let's be sure our people are above the danger line at the time of the first storm."

She saw the first storm coming, a blue-black mist which spread like smoke against the northern skies, then rose and deepened in color. She went back to the house, sent Delphy with messages to the stables and had the boys ride out to warn the men working in the river channel. The women and children were brought to her house.

They laughed at her for her alarm and she laughed with them, but she wanted no loss of life.

She watched the storm's approach, grateful that it did not look as formidable as the previous year, but formidable enough at that.

"Old Mother Summer is weepin' th' sky," chanted Tommy Scoggins, who had discovered her retreat. He looked up at her and smiled a toothless smile which seemed strangely charming on his fat, freckled face.

Judith smiled back, tears behind her smile. Last year how different it had been. Big Tom had been cheer and she had sat snugly in the curve of Norman's arm. She wondered where he was now.

"Know what it makes me think of, Miss Judy?" inquired Tommy, pointing to black clouds which had separated from the mass and were blowing forward, slashed with red forked lightning. "Witches, black ones, ridin' brooms. Say, Miss Judy, d'y' reckon you could talk Pop into buyin' me an airplane 'stead of a car? Gee there ain't no place here a fellow can drive a car."

Judith turned from the storm-swept sky. "Would you be terribly disappointed if you didn't get either one?"

"You mean maybe there won't be no...I mean any, oil?"

"How far down are they now?"

"Past two thousand," he admitted. Then, with bravado, "Gee, I could get along with a horse just as well, if I could have two guns to go with it."

The near cannonade of thunder sent them back down hill and a few moments later the storm struck. Daylight this time, excepting for the twilight of greenish-black clouds. They could see the blue-white flame of lightning, zinging down in snaky darts, crashing with brittle force.

The river was rising. Judith, Larson and the engineers watched it with interest and apprehension. It flooded the low basin, lapped the base of Scoggins No 1. They saw it lapping the lowest tents and then with one great roar, Scoggins No. 1 burst into flame, a flame that seemed to rise to meet a red dart hurled from the clouds.

"She's gone..she struck the derrick."

Judith stood white lipped, silent. She had no more reserve funds to rebuild.

(Copyright, 1934, by Jeanne Bowman.)

Tomorrow, Judith faces calamity.

Parade Leader

Grace, beauty and enthusiasm are only a few of the qualities that make Miss Jean Carter the best "drum major" Beverly Hills, Cal., ever had. Here Mis Carter is shown as she led the parade in civic fiesta that marked completion of a unit of the new civic center in Beverly Hills.

On Court Sidelines

Mrs. Claire Moran and her daughter, Angela, pictured in Los Angeles court during hearing of her husband's suit against widow of his partner, Charles Mack of the famous "Black Crows." Moran seeks $34,500, charging he was injured in auto crash that killed Mack. The car was being driven by Mrs. Mack at the time.

PAY ONE CENT A DAY COLLECT $25 A MONTH

Kansas City, Mo.—Announcement has just been made by The Postal Life & Casualty Insurance Co., 5695 Postal Life Bldg., Kansas City, Mo., of a brand new accident policy paying $25 a month for two years for any accident—no matter how it occurs. The cost is only one penny a day—$3.65 a year.

Such value is almost unbelievable. Think of it. Regardless of how you are hurt, you collect. In case of death the policy pays up to $500. Any man, woman or child is eligible (but not more than two policies to one person). No medical examination required.

The company will send one of these new policies for 10 days' FREE inspection. SEND NO MONEY. Just send your name, age, address and the name and relationship of your beneficiary. No agent will call on you. This offer is a limited one, so write the Postal Company at once.—Adv.

43-Story Skyscraper In Chicago Will Be Opened On Tuesday

CHICAGO, April 30—(AP)—Chicago's newest and largest skyscraper—the $12,000,000, forty-three story Field building—will be officially opened tomorrow. Situated in the heart of the city's financial district, the building, which is the fourth largest in the United States, covers half a city block, and is 535 feet tall, with a 20-story tower. It's construction was financed by the estate of Marshal Field, pioneer merchant.

American Girl Leaps To Death in Sicily

TAORMINA, Sicily, April 30—(AP)—Plunging 100 feet from a hotel window to fall beneath the wheels of a speeding train, Miss Elizabeth Beoerton Forman, 25, daughter of Horace Forman of Haverford, Pa., was killed instantly Saturday night, police disclosed today.

Miss Forman, investigators said, had been in bed since her arrival and Saturday night was suffering from high fever and in a semi-delirious condition.

Make This Model At Home

By ANNE ADAMS.

This is a perfectly delicious little frock. Any little girl—yours for instance—will look good enough to eat in it. Do you know what it does? It takes the latest grown-up styles and makes them "little girlish." See the tiny puffed sleeves and that clever quite lady-like button-over yoke. As for the skirt— we have just been looking at a matron's gown which had exactly the same slenderizing V in front. Your Emmy Lou or Dorothy, or whatever her name is, will be thrilled to the core at the thought. And in passing we might remark—the little frock is nothing at all to make! Adorable in cottons.

Pattern 1832 is available in sizes 4, 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14. Size 10 takes 2 yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

GAS TAX SHOWS $363,000 GAIN

First Three Months Of 1934 Bring Income Of $2,487,942.

Gasoline tax receipts of the state treasury during first four months of 1934 gained $363,000 in round numbers over the revenue from the same source during the like period last year. That is the net increase shown by State Treasurer Hall's records.

The total for January, February, March and April this year, after deductions for refunds and other items, is $2,487,942. In 1933 the same months yielded $2,124,614, net, from the gasoline levy.

Notwithstanding the large gain in gross receipts for the current year, the state highway fund gets less money therefrom than it did a year ago. This is because the last state legislature raised the proportionate monthly allotment to counties fifty per cent, giving them three-eights of the whole amount instead of one-fourth. That method of distribution went into effect in May, 1933.

Where the counties a year ago, under the old plan, drew $531,154 for the first four months, they get $932,978 this year—an increase of over $401,000.

State Treasurer Hall reports that in April this year his office received from the state agriculture department, which collects the gasoline tax, a net total of $637,478 of which $239,054 is being apportioned to the counties.

This is more than in either January or March, but less than the income from gas tax for February, which was $388,009, the counties getting $258,003 of that sum.

Lancaster county's portion of the April revenue is $18,116, while $34,674 goes to Douglas. Among other counties receiving major installment are: Scotts Bluff, $5,862; Gage, $5,571; Hall, $5,286; Dodge, $4,975; Buffalo, $4,485; Madison, $4,442; Custer, $4,320; and Adams, $4,089.

CLAIMS ATTEMPT MADE TO EXTORT

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., April 30—(AP)—Two men were being held for questioning here today on the strength of Joe Campbell's story that the pair sought to obtain access to his safe deposit vault in an Omaha bank Saturday.

Ray Poston, known at Weeping Water as Ray Wells, was arrested last night at the farm home of Guy Stokes near Weeping Water. Officials said he admitted taking part in the plot and implicated Gilbert Burks, arrested in Omaha Saturday when he appeared at the bank with an order from Campbell granting access to the box.

Burks denied obtaining the order from Campbell at the point of a gun, as Campbell claims. Sheriff Homer Sylvester today said Burks admitted serving a term in the Wisconsin penitentiary for attempted robbery. No charges have been filed.

Poston was quoted by officers as saying Burks proposed the plan to get the order. Campbell told authorities the two men forced him to sign the order Friday night at the home of Mrs. Helen Craig, Burk's sister, where Burks and Campbell had been living. Burks claimed he found Campbell paying unwelcome attention to his sister and that Campbell offered him the order when he started to take him to the sheriff's office.

Campbell said the vault contained mining stock which he valued at $2,000.

Today

Uncle Sam, Ancient Mariner

Mr. Mencken's Plain Talk

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

This depression, even with all encouraging news "5,000,000 put to work" etc., reminds you of the voyage of the ancient mariner, who went drifting along, "the first that ever burst" into an unknown sea, who or what it was that shot our Albatross, and brought all these troubles on us, Wall Street, technocracy, over-production, the war, or what, nobobdy knows. But we have them, and can only sail on through the gloomy waters, thankful for occasional encouraging voices.

Today's voice, that of Professor Rexford G. Tugwell, certified braintruster, one of the highest highbrows, brings this joyful news: "The farmers of the United States are saved." He assures New York's State Bankers association that saving the farmers is merely the difference between "talk and action," the president saw that something must be done, and did something. He said: "Plow under your cotton," it was plowed under. He said: "Stop planting so much wheat," the farmers stopped.

Professor Tugwell did not tell where tax-payers are to get the money to pay for all this, but after all, what is money? And what are taxpayers?

Brain trust heresy comes from H. L. Mencken, known for his habit of saying what he thinks; for instance: "And when I say that Uncle Sam is going broke, it is the same as saying, of course, that the American taxpayer is going broke. Every nickel that the professors at Washington are throwing away will have to come out of his pocket.

"Has all this waste of money done us any good? I doubt it. We have moved toward recovery not because of it, but in spite of it. The English who were much worse off than we were two years ago have gone much further along the road than we have. They have a surplus in their treasury, and are even reducing taxes. Yet they have done this without putting a single bright young professor on their payroll, or laying out a cent for economic madstones and bile-beans."

From Russia comes news to interest Japan, where many believe that it would be as easy to defeat modern Russia under Stalin as it was to defeat old Russia under a feeble-minded czar, led by a hysterical woman.

These young Russians are as brave as any men living, not excepting Japanese that go to death as cheerfully as they go to breakfast. No other country could talk of putting five million young men into military training at once. And please note that the five million will be made to study aviation.

The safest thing to do with Russia, probably, is to let Russia alone and see what happens.

FOUR PITTSBURGH THEATERS BOMBED

PITTSBURGH, April 30—(AP)—Dynamite bombs were exploded in four theaters early today, shattering hundreds of windows and routing frightened residents of adjoining apartment buildings.

Police said they believed a war between rival unions of motion picture operators was on.

All the bombs were set off in the theater ticket offices. The total damage was estimated by firemen at $19,000.

Seriously Injured In Road Accident

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., April 30—(AP)—Mrs. Floyd Danielson, 41, of Chapman, suffered serious injuries, including a deep chest injury, a deep cut on one arm which half severed it, and a crushed left hand, Sunday night, when the truck in which she was riding was struck by a light sedan driven by Gerald Grosvenor, 19-year-old son of George C. Grosvenor of Central City, about a mile east of here.

Fame Of Nebraska Capitol Spreads To Interior of Africa

The fame of the Nebraska capitol has spread even to corners of Africa and Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Pellissier of Bloomfontein in Orange Free state were greatly impressed when first they saw the structure Sunday.

The Pellissiers, he a director of education and she a head of a woman's social service organization, are making an educational tour of America. He said they had heard of the capitol at almost every place they had visited. He was also interested in the extension system of the University of Nebraska.

They arrived in Lincoln Saturday evening and will remain until Tuesday morning.

Bandits Get $14,000

BOSTON, April 30—(AP)—Five robbers today wrested a bag containing $14,064 in cash and $2,860 in checks from a girl cashier in the Sears Roebuck & Co., store, battled a special policeman guarding the girl and escaped.

Margaret Connolly was carrying the money to an upstairs vault when one of the young bandits grabbed the bag.

KEARNEY SENIORS VISIT.

CLAIM WRITER URGES SABOTAGE

Adjutant General Raises Objection to Church Worker's Article.

Adjutant General Paul of the Nebraska national guard Monday characterized as a symptom of a "growing red menace" a recent article by Winifred L. Chappell, secretary of the Methodist Federation for Social Service, in which she urged young men to resort to sabotage in case they are drafted for war service. General Paul declared that the government is "asleep at the switch" and said congress should enact legislation to prevent the circulation of this and other "communistic literature."

General Paul has distributed mimeographed copies of Miss Chappell's article, which apepared in the March 3 issue of "The Epworth Herald," to guard officers, legion officials and others. Exhibiting a file of correspondence between Harry H. Ellis, Holdrege attorney and national guard captain, and Methodist Bishop F. D. Leete of Omaha, in which Ellis demanded an expression of the church's attitude toward Miss Chappell's utterances, General Paul termed Bishop Leete's reply "straddling."

The general added, however, that he does not believe the Methodist church as an organization is "responsible for this stuff." He said "it is the few, not the many," who are responsible.

In her article, Miss Chappell outlined four choices which youth can make in event this country enters a war, which she takes for granted is merely a matter of time. The four choices open, she wrote, are go to war; be conscientious objectors and go to prison; go to camp or munition factory and agitate for sabotage; or fourth, "sabotage with the deliberate, conscious, informed intent to get rid of the present economic system, of which war is a part, and to build a new world to the existence of which peace is a necessity."

In his letter to Bishop Leete, Ellis, who is a member of the Methodist church, called Miss Chappell's article "vicious and contrary to all the principles of this government" and for the purpose of "undermining this country."

Bishop Leete's reply said that the church is not responsible for the article, the only recourse at this time being against its author.

Doerr Balked Upon 'Emergency' Buying

Council Refuses Permit Purchase Without Bids to Anticipate Price Increase.

The $1,585 bid of the Westinghouse Electrical & Supple Co., being the lowest, the city council Monday awarded that company a contract to furnish the city lighting department with two carloads of red cedar poles. They are to be 30, 35 and 45 feet long.

At an informal conference Monday morning, however, the council declined to allow Paul W. Doerr, head of the lighting department, to purchase 24 transformers in the open market, under an emergency resolution. Doerr had stated that he could save $200 by purchasing now, since there will be a price increase effective Tuesday.

Opposition to the emergency purchase was led by E. M. Bair, head of the street department, when Doerr said he does not need the transformers immediately. When Bair declared that the equipment should be advertised and bids received, Mayor Fenton B. Fleming and Commissioner A. C. Harm joined him.

The council granted the application of Peter Schwartz for an on sale beer license at 1531 O street; and John Eckhardt, 2028 South Tenth street, for on and off sale licenses. Hearings will be held next Monday on the applications of John F. Hollohan, 1020 P street, for on and off sale licenses, and Francis A. Griffin, at Landis field, for on sale privileges.

A petition for a reclassification of property at 1548 R street, for the Nebraska Building & Loan association, was referred to the zoning board. Two recommendations by the board were approved. They allow E. B. Hester, Ninth and Hartley streets, to build a garage on a changed setback, and change the apartment zoning at northwest corner of Eleventh and J streets, to local business. The property is owned by the Abel Construction Co.

File Insane Housing Protest.

A petition against the county housing insane patients at 317 North Eighteenth street, was ordered filed. A similar fate met a letter from H. Zelen, protesting against Paul W. Doerr buying electrical supplies in the open market.

A proposed amendment to the sign ordinance was referred to the legal department. Filed by a group of sign painters, the measure would provide a $25 registration fee, instead of the present fee of $10. After the first year the fee would be $1. Before any sign could be erected, a permit would be required. There would be no fee, however, except for roof and projecting signs, for which $1 would be charged.

The painters also would allow signs to project 8 feet over the sidewalks, instead of 4 feet, the restriction in the present ordinance.

According to a letter accompanying the proposed amendment, the present ordinance is unsatisfactory to both the sign painters and businessmen, generally.

A letter from the Labor Temple Building association, asking for a refund of real estate and personal taxes for 1932 and 1933, was referred to the legal department. Request was also made that the association's property be removed from the tax rolls in the future, claiming exemption under the Supreme court ruling in the Masonic temple case.

$5,149 Collected In Jewish Welfare Drive

With $5,149 reported after a week's campaign, the Jewish Welfare society decided after its Monday noon report meeting in the Cornhusker hotel to continue the drive for the remainder of this week until the $6,000 goal is reached.

PARK GETS 12 GEESE.

Twelve wild geese have been added to the flocks in Pioneers park, Chester Ager, park executive, said Monday. Eleven of them are of the snow variety and the other is a blue goose. There are now 21 in the flock. The latest additions are birds confiscated by the state. Two wild mallard drakes also were sent to the Pioneers park lakes during the past week.

Funeral Wednesday For John G. Eyen

Chef at Cornhusker Hotel Was Formerly Engaged in Restaurant Business Here.

Funeral services for John G. Eyen, 29, restaurant proprietor and chef, who died Sunday morning following an operation, will be held at St. Mary's cathedral, Fourteenth and K streets, at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. Msgr. P. L. O'Loughlin officiating. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

John Eyen.

Born in Syria, Mr. Eyen came to the United States at the age of 16. Five years later he engaged in the restaurant business and in 1930 bought a half interest in the Commodore Grill. He left that business in 1933. For the past six months he had been a chef at the Cornhusker hotel.

He is survived by his wife, Josephine; a son, Philip; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Eyen of Syria; and two brothers, Mitchell and Thomas of Syria. The body is at Splain, Schnell & Griffiths and will be taken to the home, 1227 A street, Tuesday morning.

NO COMMITMENT FROM COCHRAN

"I'm Building Roads, Not Fences," Says Engineer.

"I'm still building roads; not fences," was the answer given Monday morning by State Engineer Cochran to a newspaper man's inquiry as to whether or not he would accept the petition nominations for governor in the democratic primary which have been filed in his behalf by friends from different counties.

The Cochran-for-governor movement seems to be seriously intended and is evidently being handled in a way to develop the sentiment gradually for his candidacy. It is anticipated that a great many more petitions will be sent in, one or two at a time, until all sections of the state have been covered. In this way, the boom for the state engineer will be likely to gather force as it grows.

The latest expression comes from Spalding in the form of a petition with 54 names signed to it, sent in to the secretary of state's office by Walter Weber.

The second step necessary to place Cochran in nomination was completed Monday by the receipt of a $10 check at the office of County Treasurer Albers in payment of the legal filing fee. It came from William Morrow of Scottsbluff, who also forwarded a petition from there last week to the secretary of state. Treasurer Albers issued a receipt and will deliver it to Secretary of State Swanson, as requested by Morrow.

All the formalities now necessary except Cochran's acceptance in writing have now been complied with.

Strike in Pittsburgh Newspapers is Settled

The strike of the mailing room employes in the steel city's three newspaper plants, which left Pittsburgh virtually "newsless" Friday afternoon and Saturday, was settled Saturday night.

The publishers announced a "compromise agreement," details of which were not disclosed, after the national labor board had sent Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, to the scene. It is reported the publishers agreed to restore a 10 per cent pay cut and that demands for an additional 5 per cent wage increase will be arbitrated.

Park Advisory Board Appointments Approved

Appointments of Thomas C. Woods, Robert M. Joyce, R. E. Campbell, W. E. Hardy, Mrs. F. W. Putney and J D Lau to the park advisory board were approved Monday by the city council. Mrs. Putney fills the unexpired term of Mrs. Ellery Davis who resigned and Mr. Lau fills the term of M. Weil, resigned. They will serve until Nov. 12, 1935.

The first four will serve for 4-year terms. Robert Ferguson is the other member of the board. Appointment of G. T. Underwood to the plumbers examining board for two years was approved, as was the appointment of J. H. Pine to the examining board for plumbers and journeymen plumbers.

Bids for 24 electric transformers at an estimated cost of $2,200 will be advertised for, the council decided.

M. E. Patterson Makes Final Locomotive Run

Marcellus E Patterson, 70, Rock island engineer, who has been running locomotives through Lincoln for almost thirty years, made his last trip through here at 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning when he pulled No. 8 back into Council Bluffs. It was his final run before retirement.

Known to rail employes as "Old Pat", he had been working for the Rock Island for the past 33 years. At one time he ran crew trains between Omaha and Lincoln but more recently he has had the run between Council Bluffs and Phillipsburg, Kas.

Neighbors Seek Fund To Help Widow Of Minister After Dogs Kill Goats

This story begins with the death of a Methodist minister. It "breaks" with the slaughter of four milk goats by two savage police dogs. It will end according to the reaction it sets up in those who read it.

A year ago Rev. M. Carne, a Methodist minister at Rosalie, died. He left a wife and six children, ranging in age from 6 to 16 years. The estate consisted of a small life insurance policy. With this, Mrs. Carne decided to buy a modest home and try to keep her family together. She had a good education but no training in business, and the struggle to keep the family intact began to assume an almost hopeless perspective. But she moved to University Place and took a small cottage.

Goats Earned Profit.

Mr. Carne had provided his family with two goats to supplement a meager salary. They were the family dairy, and they too were brought to University Place. Mrs. Carne bought two more. The four goats produced enough milk for the family and a surplus that brought Mrs. Carne $6 a month.

Recently two vicious police dogs broke into the pen and slaughtered all four goats and wounded a kid growing up among them. It was early in the morning. One man saw the dogs, one black, the other gray, but was unable to identify them.

The family had lost its milk supply, and a property value of $50 plus the income from the sale of the milk. The matter was brought to the attention of neighbors and by them to the men's Bible class at the First M. E. church. Through them and E. L. Williams, superintendent of the adult department of the church, an appeal is made to aid Mrs. Carnes.

Chance For Help.

"This is a good chance to put into practice some of the principles of neighborliness and Christian helpfulness that so many profess but so few carry out," Mr. Williams said. "Should everyone who learns of this case and who says, "too bad"; "a pitiful case"; or "something ought to be done about it," send a few cents to E. L. Williams, 5302 Greenwood street, Lincoln, or the First M. E. church, something will be done about it."

"Mrs. Carne's home is almost paid for now but she has suffered, what to her is a serious setback. The church has helped but we feel that there are hundreds of others that would aid too if they knew about it; especially dog lovers who so vehemently denounce muzzling dogs or keeping them chained up. Even if no more than the $50 comes in, it certainly could not go for a better cause than to help this brave woman keep her family together and train them to become good citizens," Mr. Williams said.

Liberty Life Observes Fifteenth Anniversary

Albin and Crook Address Officers, Agents, at Breakfast Meeting Monday.

Celebrating the fifteenth anniversary of the company's founding, forty-five officers and agents of the Lincoln Liberty Life Insurance company from both thrift and insurance departments met at a breakfast meeting at the Lincoln hotel Monday morning.

Joseph Albin, general manager, was principal speaker and pointed out the importance of maintaining the company in its present status. Ira Crook, president, spoke briefly. The agents set a goal of a million dollars of business for May.

Noah Baker, 83, Dies At His Home Monday

Noah Baker, 83, retired farmer who had lived in Nebraska for 24 years, died at his home, 1610 A street, at 4:10 o'clock Monday morning. He was a member of Grace Lutheran church.

He is survived by nine daughters, Mrs. John C. Close of Maryland, Mrs. William Nagge of West Virginia, Mrs. H. B. Miller, Mrs. Robert Paetz, Mrs. Agnes Mankemeyer and Miss Bertha Baker, all of Lincoln, Mrs. Lyman Jenkins of Manhattan, Kas., Mrs. H. C. Skilling of Beloit, Kas., and Mrs. Ben Beckman of Sprague, Neb; and two sons, John E. Baker and William R. Baker of Lincoln.

The body is at Castle, Roper & Matthews mortuary.

Mrs. Charles Sargent Dies at Chelan, Wash.

Miss Marion Sargent, 3222 U street, received word Sunday of the death of the wife of her brother, Charles, at Chelan, Wash. Mrs. Sargent was formerly Bessie Hill. Following Mr. Sargent's graduation from the University of Nebraska law school in 1904, the couple went to Panama where they lived for six years. Mr. Sargent was then private secretary to George Campin, water commissioner in Panama during the construction of the canal, and formerly city engineer in Lincoln. Besides her husband, Mrs. Sargent is survived by three children. She was 57 years of age. Funeral services are to be held Thursday in Chelan.

State Fair Board Hears Concession Proposals

The state fair board met here Monday to confer on attractions for the 1934 exposition. A number of concessionaires and other representatives of shows and entertainment features were scheduled to present their propositions to the board.

John A. Stryker, secretary of the North Platte roundup, in Lincoln Mandoy said state fair officials have agreed to aid the roundup with a state fair day on the program. Stryker said July 3 will be state fair day at the North Platte celebration.

PIONEER SCOUT SPIRIT LAUDED

Boy Leaders From Six States Open Regional Meet In Lincoln.

Declaring that "scouting in this region has always followed the pioneer spirit with scouts, volunteer leaders, and professional leaders bringing to youth the perseverance achieve success," Roe Bartle, scout executive of Kansas City, Mo., addressed the "kick off" dinner of the Region 8 scout executive conference in the Lincoln hotel Sunday night.

More than 55 scout leaders had registered by Sunday night. Main activities of the three-day conference got under way Monday morning. Region 8 includes Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa, Kansas, Wyoming, and Colorado.

Mr Bartle paid tribute to some of the early scout leaders in this area, mentioning Sam R. McKelvie of Lincoln, Walter W. Head of Omaha, L. W. Baldwin, John P. Wallace of Des Moines, Ia., and the late Clarence H. Howard of St. Louis.

"This region has always been rich in tradition and opportunity," Mr. Bartle declared, "and it has always progressed forward. It is a fact that more than 40 per cent of all our professional scout leaders have come out of these states. We too must push on."

Fred G. Davie, regional scout executive, gave a short address concerning conditions in the region.

The address of welcome to the visiting executive was delivered by Guy C. Chambers.

Zaro Agha, Oldest Person In World, In Grave Condition

ISTANBUL, Turkey, April 30—(AP)—Absolute quiet was ordered today for Zaro Agha, who claims to be the oldest person in the world.

The Turk, who says he is 160, is in the National Children's hospital to which he was taken Saturday suffering from Bright's disease.

Doctors said his condition was grave. All visitors—save for the patient's 70-year-old grandson—were barred from the room.

Protests Identity.

Despite this man's denial that he is Allen R. Hammel of Chicago, and his insistence that he is Burt Armstrong of Philadelphia, a Chicago grand jury was reported to have voted a true bill against him charging larceny of $39,000 from a money truck. (A. P. Photo).

Mrs. Nicholson Dies At Age 86; Was Wife of Former Professor

Mrs. Jennie Nicholson, 86, wife of Hudson H. Nicholson, former chemistry instructor at the University of Nebraska, died at her home, 511 South Fourteenth street, at 8:20 o'clock Sunday evening. Beside her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. H. B. Mosher of Winner, S. D., and Mrs. B. C. Adams of Kansas City; and a son, Edward Nicholson of Minneapolis. The body is at Hodgman's mortuary.

SECURITIES ACT HIT BY CHAMBER

Warning of Possible Breakdown in Income Tax Payments.

WASHINGTON, April 30—(AP)—A warning of a possible "breakdown" in income tax payments was given today by the committee on federal taxation of the chamber of commerce of the United States.

The report will be acted upon by the chamber as a whole, which opens its annual meeting tomorrow. The business men will be called upon to vote for an attack on the securities act.

"Unless the act is properly modified," the committee found, "there is little, if any, prospect of the origination and sale of new and refunding corporate issues in needed volume.

"Without the issuance and sale of such securities, recovery will be delayed, if not prevented."

The committee on federal taxation, discussing the new legislation imposing higher income tax rates, asserted income taxpayers will not co-operate unless they believe the tax fair.

This committee also added a warning:

"Economic recovery cannot be brought about and maintained by government bonuses or loans to individuals, business or agriculture, but can only result from the employment of private resources and energies."

Lure Of Biting Fish Answered By Lincoln Boys

"Fisherman's luck," called to the youth of Lincoln again Sunday, and hundreds lined the banks of Haines branch at Pioneers park, intent on hooking their share of the more than 5,000 bullheads that had been planted Friday afternoon. More than 1,000 boys took part in the fishing contest Saturday afternoon.

Chester Ager, park executive, said many other boys tried their luck at Oak Creek park lake, in Salt creek at Electric park, and at Fourteenth and Lake streets. Many adults also spent a considerable part of the afternoon fishing at Pioneers park.

Many of the boys who were fishing Sunday at Pioneers park were accompanied by their parents, who had taken lunches with them and spent the day at the picnic grounds, through which Haines branch flows.

Ager estimated that Saturday afternoon and Sunday upwards of 3,000 bullheads had been caught at Pioneers park. Those who went to Oak Creek park late had varying success, he declared. At Lake street, however, no catches were made as the bullheads that had been planted there a year ago had all been taken out before the summer was ended and have not been replaced.

Roca Barn Burns; Car And Grain Destroyed

A barn on the Sam Crabtree farm near Roca was burned to the ground early Monday morning. Destroyed in the blaze was a sedan, a truck, a set of harness, and 100 bushels of corn.. A fire truck from Lincoln was called to the blaze which threatened to spread, fanned as it was by a stiff breeze.

W. R. Sanders, School Employe, Dies Sunday

William R. Sanders, 37, who for the past seven years had been custodian of the administration buildings of the Lincoln school district died at his home, 2276 Dudley street, at 6 o'clock Sunday evening.

He is survived by his wife, Etta, four sons, Dorwin, Lloyd, Keith and Dale, at home; his mother, Mrs. E. B. Nichols of Lincoln; and two sisters, Mrs. Albert Luehr and Mrs. Arthur Slickney, both of Lincoln. The body is at Hodgman's.

Protestant, Catholic and Jewish Spokesmen Plead Co-Operation At Brotherhood Day Mass Meeting Here

A plea that "Jew, Catholic and Protestant join hands in fighting for the common good of man" was sounded by three lay speakers in addressing a National Brotherhood day mass meeting in St. Paul M. E. church Sunday evening. Most of the local pastors took some phase of the brotherhood subject for their Sunday morning service.

More than 1,000 people jammed St. Paul M. E. church Sunday night to hear Supreme Court Judge Bayard H. Paine speak for the Protestants, Mrs. May E. Ohlheiser for the Catholics, and William Gold for the Jewish people.

Urges Joint Fight On Crime.

"We should stand together in unity for the things we agree upon," Judge Paine declared.

"We must join hands against vice, crime and war," Judge Paine declared, "for they are all the archenemies of man. As individual denominations, we hate each of them, but think how more effective our opposition would be if it were united."

"We're trying to put religion a little higher than it has ever stood before," Judge Paine said, "We, as Protestants, have much to learn from the Catholics and the Jews. From the Catholics, we can learn how to better keep the youth interested in the church and from the Jews, how to develop better and finer standards of home relationships."

"Brotherhood night ought to be a revelation to some of us," Judge Paine declared in closing, "because we are so narrow in our ideas. But there are so many problems pressing down upon us, it seems to me that we can forget a lot of these ancient prejudices."

"Let Bygones Be Bygones."

Declaring that "in the past there has been wrong, injustice and persecution in the name of religion but that we should let bygones be bygones," Mrs. Ohlheiser, head of the educational work of the Lincoln diocese of the Catholic church, presented the Catholic viewpoint.

"There is no better way to avoid prejudice and misunderstanding than by working together," Mrs. Ohlheiser stated, "Most of our past difficulties have arisen because of lack of knowledge and have been retained through all the centuries because of lack of intelligence."

"I sometimes think that we Christians—Protestant and Catholic alike—do not realize what we owe the Jewish people," Mrs. Ohlheiser declared. "Most of us do not know that we owe the knowledge and worship of one true God to the Jewish people."

"We must all work together to rid this world of the loose-thinking and wrong-thinking," Mrs. Ohlheiser declared.

Mrs. Ohlheiser told of being in a local store immediately after opening time one morning and said that after he sounding of a gong, there was a moment of silent prayer in which everyone joined. Not a sound was heard, she said, until the gong sounded again, and then everyone resumed their work. "That's genuine sincere religion," Mrs. Ohlheiser said.

Cites "Red" Menace.

"There is an institution or element in this country that is seeking to undermine the very foundation of our government. You all know that we cannot blame the farmer for all these milk strikes and such—but that they are actually the work of professional organizers. Only by united effort can we stamp out this scourge and prevent it from getting a stronger foothold in this country."

Speaking on behalf of the Jews, William Gold said that "surely such a gathering as this will serve to fulfill a promise of better feeling towards our fellow-men."

"Give me such faith in my own belief," Mr Gold said in closing, "that I respect the beliefs of other men."

Rev Ben F Wyland, chairman of the Lincoln Ministerial association committee on Brotherhood day, presided over the service Rev P H. Murdick president of the Ministerial association, announced that the offering would go to the Newman M. E church to help pay off the remaining $90 of obligations, so that the church could embark upon its building program.

Benediction By Dr. Aitken.

The benediction and invocation was pronounced by Dr Walter Aitken pastor of the church. Rev. James MacPherson pastor of the Second Baptist church led the responsive reading and Rev Paul C Johnston pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, read the scripture lesson. The prayer was led by Rabbi J. J. Ogle.

Music for the service was provided by the Templars quartet, consisting of William Miller, Don Jackson, Russell Gilman, and Alfred Reider. Community singing was led by William G. Temple.

In the morning services, most Lincoln pastors dealt with some phase of the brotherhood subject.

"Most races or groups have a superiority complex," Rev. F. L. Rodenbeck, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical church, said. "This leads to criticism of others, usually on the basis of their poorest traits. A careful study in the Christian attitude of tolerance reveals the good of others, that may be our gain. Christianity from the beginning had this stamp of universality, but it is not self-applying. Only by understanding the burden each race bears can Christianity solve the problem of race and weld men into a real Brotherhood."

Tells Christ's Example.

Declaring that "it would be impossible for any one with honesty of purpose to represent Jesus as a mere nationalist who had no desire to bring His religion to all men," Dr. Walter Aitken, pastor of St. Paul M. E., said: "The outstanding feature of his life was the bursting of the bands which bound the exclusive ecclesiast and the leaping beyond the measure of man-made creeds, national and racial prejudice. To follow Him is to put the brother into brotherhood."

"We pride ourselves on the rapid rise and development of present-day civilization with its science and its art," Rev. James Macpherson, pastor of the Second Baptist church, said, "but when we reflect on the slow progress that men have made in tolerance, brotherly love and mutual understanding, we stand amazed at the contrast. The church must move ahead. The churches representing both the Jewish and the Christian faiths must take the lead in such an effort. It is a great day for the forces of religion. Let the world know that men of varying faiths are uniting to present a solid front to the insidious forces of hate, prejudice, intolerance and all such evils that would disintegrate and overthrow the spiritual gains that civilization has already made."

"America Means Tolerance."

Rev. Ben F. Wyland, pastor of First Plymouth Congregational church, said in part: "America from the first has set her face to the realization of a new ideal toward a new tolerance; a brotherhood of races and religion. The man who hates a Jew, a Catholic, a Protestant, belongs to the old world. The man who would divide an American community along lines of religious and racial bigotry belongs in the Dark Ages and not in the Twentieth century. Let the city of Lincoln pledge herself anew to Christian brotherhood and help keep America safe for honest differences of opinion and worship and community service by and for all."

Rev. P. H. Murdick, pastor of Trinity M E church, described many of the contributions which the Jewish people have made to the world and ended with a plea to his congregation "for a better understanding of all."

"If in the realm of religion we are not able to achieve the spirit of brotherhood," Rev. G. T. Savery, pastor of Caldwell-Memorial United Brethren church, said, "how may we hope to establish brotherhood among men and nations. It ought to be the peculiar genius of religion to bring men together in certain unities which, while not calling for uniformity of creed or custom, would certainly produce kindly understandings and tolerant sympathies. Among such unities there would be, of course, a recognition of the oneness of God, the common brotherhood of mankind and the urgency of a call to righteousness in thought and conduct."

Brotherhood day was observed in 41 states on Sunday

THE TORCH ON HIGH.

IF ANY man suddenly thrust by circumstances into a dominant position had reason to feel fortune had played shabbily with him, it is Alexander Kerensky, the father of the original revolution against autocratic rule in Russia. Kerensky himself, unable to stem the seething tide of hatred which broke over Russia late in 1917, was supplanted by Lenin and Trotsky, and the communist order was set up.

Kerensky dreamed of a free people. To him, the autocracy of a self-imposed dictatorship in the name of the masses was as repugnant as the iron rule of royalty under Czar Nicholas and of the Russian nobility. Kerensky rarely has revealed his thoughts as his dream and his hope of freedom for his people faded and disappeared while the communist regime forged stronger and stronger chains to perpetuate its rule.

Therefore the appeal which he issued from Paris on last Friday, calling upon the peoples of all nations to unite in a fight for liberty, is of more than passing interest. This combined dreamer and crusader is no gloomy student of history. Hope still is fresh and strong in him. He is confident communism—Marxian socialism—is dying. He believes that Fascist dictatorship which replaced democratic forms of government among European nations, have reached the peak in Europe and will not spread. It is his belief that states now under dictatorship gradually will regain constitutional liberty.

"Among all dictatorships existing in Europe today," Kerensky said, "communism is the severest. No other dictatorship has sought to exterminate all of the creative forces of people and kill national sentiment or crush the native qualities of the race. As for Marxian socialism, it is dying. Marx wrote his theories when there were two great classes—proletariat and capitalist. The middle class seemed doomed. But the world underwent a tremendous evolution and today the middle class is greater than the other two."

This is the voice of no poor student of history, and it is raised at a time particularly appropriate in this country. Kerensky's observations on Russia are substantiated by the actions of the Stalin government itself in recasting and remoulding the original Simon pure communism taught by Lenin. The Stalin government has had to readjust its social theories to afford recognition to a diluted form of capitalism. And the record of western civilization represented by the European nations and by the American furnishes further substantiation of his position. The pendulum has swung back and forth between ultra-conservatism and liberalism constantly since democracy gained a foothold a little over a century and a half ago. But always it swings back to the side of human freedom and liberty. No tyrant or tyrants has or have succeeded in suppressing freedom for any considerable length of time.

And while the ripples caused by the Dr. Wirt episode are subsiding, while now nervous men in many localities are expressing deep alarm over the disappearance of constitutional government and the establishment of a dictatorship here in the United States, it is they who betray an actual loss of faith in democracy. By their own words, they suggest that people lack the devotion to liberty, the appreciation of the blessings of freedom, necessary in order to perpetuate it. It isn't necessary to develop chills over the fear that some scheming brain trusters are planning a coup for the establishment of an American dictatorship. What if they are? No one in a responsible position shares that view. And if he does, he would go down to the most ignominious defeat any man ever suffered. Otherwise, it would be conceded, that democracy is but a shell and hardly worth the saving. If there is not the devotion to it among the people, then why save it? When people no longer value it, enthrone it in their consciousness as the glittering crown of human intelligence, does it not become a hollow mockery, a cheap pretense, a ghastly fake? Kerensky is right. For a day, possible a night, dictators may flourish, but inevitably on the morrow that spark which people have kept alive at unbelievable sacrifices will flare forth again, and a refreshing, reinvogorated world of western nations once again will pay homage to democracy.

FISHING.

REPORTS of the catches made by devoted youthful followers and disciples of Izaak Walton in Lincoln over the weekend emphasize again that in the midst of change the appeal of the fishing pool, a line, and a hook is as great as ever. When haven't boys responded to the lure of a deep shadowy pool where the finny tribe lurks?

Fishing is the common language of boyhood.

Life is changing, they say, is being recast by artificial influences. The homespun days are over. And yet, a well chosen sapling, to the end of which is tied a bit of cheap cord, with a hook and an improvised bobber—the whole outfit representing more labor than expense—can satisfy the craving of a boy as much as tackle which cost a considerable sum of money. He goes forth with hopes soaring. A few of the garden variety of worms for bait, a quiet stream, temporarily halted in its lazy meanderings by a fallen tree and driftwood, the singing birds overhead, and just enough excitement inspired by a wobbling bobber now and then, and the day is complete. It's not the fish, but the fishing which counts. Of course, if Ol' Lady Luck, courted by such devious methods as baptising the bait with a well directed spit, persists in hovering near, and the result of the day's efforts is a well filled stringer, then life is too good to be real.

But we couldn't read of those hundreds of boys who sallied forth Saturday after bullheads, without recalling the anticipation accompanying similar forays in which it was our privilege to have a part. Blessed days of boyhood! Free of care, free of responsibility, free of worry, they are gilded in memory. We do not claim any scenic beauty for those favorite pools to which we journeyed. Years later, we wondered why certain spots along the Big Blue, and Bear and Indian creeks, were at that time enchanted retreats. Frequently, they were overgrown with weeds; always the banks close to the water were muddy; in late summer, the waters were covered with green. But never a man who as a boy fished assiduously fails to feel a little warming glow as he reads the stories of the new recruits to the great fraternity of ambitious anglers.

CONCILIATION

THROUGH the efforts of Senator Louis Murphy of Iowa, an amendment to the banking act has been proposed which would provide for the appointment of conciliators by the federal court in the case of foreclosure on city homes or on farms. In presenting it, Senator Murphy said it "would materially decrease the number of rash foreclosures."

That, of course, was the purpose of the moratorium legislation enacted in farming states, including Nebraska. The best evidence that the moratorium provisions failed in offering any solution for the farm debt problem may be seen in the demand now for another program. At the time the moratorium bill was under consideration, this newspaper opposed it on the ground that in actual practice, it was a gold brick, so far as offering any real solution, and that it would tend only to complicate the situation as between debtor and creditor. The Star suggested then that conciliation between the two interests was the sound and sensible course. It is gratifying to note the increasing reliance upon conciliation and the decreasing tendency on the part of debtors to fall back on moratoriums.

The record of one Iowa county, Plymouth, is most impressive. There Adrian C. Bowers, who was appointed conciliator by a federal judge, was able to effect a conciliation in 350 out of 500 cases, where foreclosure either seemed imminent or had been instituted. As the Davenport Democrat says, the saving of 350 out of 500 farms and homes is a blessing, and a splendid piece of work in the interest of humanity. It is more than that. It establishes a precedent to rely less upon legislation and more upon individual relationships.

The Murphy amendment stipulates the appointment of conciliators shall be made mandatory in any county with a farming population of more than 500 farm families. Its passage by congress would put an end to the moratorium nonsense and would establish the agency enabling the debt burdened farmer to work out of his difficulties. Under the moratorium, nothing is settled; the only thing accomplished is to enable the debtor to remain on the land a few months longer. Through conciliation, a new understanding between debtor and creditor is achieved and the former is enabled to go ahead with his program and his planning for a period of time without the haunting fear that ultimately he is to be ejected from his farm. Where delinquent interest and defaulted principal payments remain, conciliation opens the avenue for fair consideration as to how best they may be handled. It is this which makes conciliation a much more effective method of dealing with the debt problem.

A TRICK OF THE BIG MUDDY.

THOSE who happened to follow the winding highway which leads to Goose hill above Nebraska City Sunday had an opportunity to observe an unusual sight in the bed of the Missouri river. One of the large islands has been augmented by sandbars, due to the fact that the stream is low. These sandbars, whipped by a strong wind, have become so dry that clouds of fine, powdery sand were hurled into the air. It was a sight so unusual that Old Timer himself was compelled to remark:

"Yes, brother, it's dry."

REPRESENTATIVE SNELL'S SUGGESTION.

CONGRESSMAN SNELL of New York, the republican floor leader, definitely mapped the course of his party henceforth when he said it is time to begin to exercise the functions of a real opposition party. He should have no complaint against his fellow republicans in congress on that score. Wherever the lines were drawn tightly on a legislative measure, they have voted in the last month as a solid unit against the administration.

It is doubtful if the Snell leadership can provide the republicans with the punch needed to instill popular confidence in the party. There is a fine distinction to be observed. Opposition solely for the sake of opposing is lacking totally in appeal. Mr. Roosevelt still remains exceedingly popular with his constituency. Certain portions of his program are not open to attack or to criticism even. Insofar as the administration has endeavored to improve the tone of business morals in America, its efforts will have full support. Just where, then, does the line begin, upon which the republicans properly may join the issue? Snell says the NRA and the farm program should be abolished. What would he offer as a substitute, if anything? The implied answer seems to be that he would offer nothing. Then, what he proposes, in reality, is a return to the conditions which proved so costly to millions.

The thing which the republicans need most of all is not a plan or a program of unqualified opposition to Roosevelt, but new leadership within its own ranks.

RECOVERY MAKING HEADWAY.

IT IS now about seven weeks since the anniversary of the reopening of banks throughout the United States, which came as the first major step taken by Roosevelt administration toward national economic restoration. Comparisons can now be made with a year ago, when the tide of business was mounting upward under the stimulus of newborn confidence, which are of some value in determining whether the country is still traveling in the same direction.

The latest figures on bank clearings in the principal centers of trade and industry are enlightening in this regard. They show, for the 22 cities included in the tabulation, a gross increase of more than 1 billion dollars in the week ended April 25, as compared with the corresponding period last year. The ratio of gain is 28.2 per cent.

And that is only part of the story. Its most significant import appears in the fact that every one of the cities from which the statistics were gathered shows an expansion in business over a year ago. The percentage of increase ranges from 1.9 per cent in Boston to 65 per cent in Atlanta. The variation is considerable, but the betterment in some degree or other is general.

Last week's total clearings for the cities in the list, leaving out New York, which accounts for over two-thirds of the country's aggregate, came to over 1 billion 530 million dollars. In the like week of 1933 the same cities did only 1 billion 116 million of business. Their collective gain was 414 millions, or 37.1 per cent.

New York went up from 2 billion 760 million dollars to 3 billion 439 million, being an increase of 779 millions, or 24.6 per cent.

The rest of the country, therefore, seems to have fared somewhat better than its metropolis in the distribution of gains.

For Chicago an increase of 39 per cent is exhibited; for Omaha, 50.4 per cent; Kansas City, 35.5; St. Louis, 36.5; Dallas, 42.1; San Francisco, 28.3; Portland, 49.8; Seattle, 19.4; Cleveland, 51.4; Pittsburgh, 37; Philadelphia, 48.3; Baltimore, 57.6; and so on.

Some allowance must be made in the total figures for an abnormal gain of over 700 per cent in Detroit's bank clearings, due to the fact that its financial institutions remained closed and its business activities were retarded longer in 1933 than those of other large cities. Nevertheless, with Detroit now among the leaders and showing more than average momentum toward permanent recovery, this improvement is a reality and is entitled to be counted with all other factors.

On top of the growth in volume of all kinds of businesses, as registered by bank clearings, the Dun & Bradstreet reports week by week have reflected a widespread and persistent upward trend in sales of wholesale and retail merchandise. Steel production, railroad car loadings, and electric power output likewise continue their gains.

QUESTION.
Lansing, Mich.

Should a boy be educated for a vocation or for a greater fullness and appreciation of life? I say the latter, his father says the former. What do you think about it?

ANSW'ER.

It is very difficult if not impossible to make a hard and fast distinction between training him for a vocation and training him for life. Do not both objectives overlap? Nothing is more important than what he will do except what he will be, and in many aspects his life and work are a unit.

Few deny that it is always the two-fold function of education to inculcate knowledge and develop character. But possibly that does not solve your problem. Nor is it sufficiently met by saying that your son's education is chiefly concerned with his general culture and therefore should be distinguished from specialized vocational instruction.

As a practical matter that distinction cannot really be made. Even when your ideal is followed and what your son gets is intended as an all-round training for his mind, it is always wise to anticipate the profession or business in which he may subsequently exercise his mind's faculties. Great schools and colleges were originally founded to turn out candidates for the priesthood of the church. They were then as strictly vocational as a post-graduate course in engineering or law is today.

But the range of modern education is so wide that it has become difficult to secure an adequate cultural background for the student. It is in this connection your choice becomes important, and I suggest that if your son shows an aptitude for life's real values he be allowed to pursue them in college. But why not keep steadily before him the need for decisive action concerning such values. First character, then culture, then the job. Is not that the best sequence for a student to follow in determining the order of his educational objectives?

QUESTION.
Williamsport, Pa.

How can Russian communism be called a religion when the communists themselves call all religion bunk?

ANSWER.

As a matter of fact, Lenin always insisted that an enlightened and ethical religion was far more dangerous for the reds than a reactionary and corrupt religion. Communism does not claim to be a religion but maintains that it holds the truth of life based upon its economic factors scientifically understood, and also upon a purely materialistic interpretation of history.

The religion of the great mass of the Russian people is nominally that of the Greek Orthodox church. But this church stressed the static aspects of theology, neglected the scholarship and became little more than an agency for the state. Its crowning shame was the unspeakable Rasputin scandal which humiliated the Russian church, dragged it to its lowest depths, and was one of the causes of the late czar's downfall and death.

During these melancholy developments the literary masters of Russia revealed a deep religiousness in their best works and the peasant classes were remarkably loyal to the claims of the Greek Orthodox faith. Then came the two revolutions of Kerensky and Lenin. The present leaders of Sovietism clearly understand its future depends on their training of Russia's youth. The children and adolescents are taught that all religion is superstitious humbug and that absolute atheism is the only creed worthy of intelligent minds.

Its zeal, persistence, passion and universality explain why it is loosely called a religion. Its gods are Karl Marx and Lenin, its gospel is Marx's book on "Kapital," its agency is organized communism as the sole means of good life, and its objective is the spread of its doctrines by persuasion or persecution throughout the world.

QUESTION.
Brooklyn, N. Y.

Why haven't children the right to criticize their parents when they deserve criticism? Those I know seem to think that because they brought us into the world and took care of us in our childhood we must blindly submit to whatever they please.

ANSWER.

Children's criticism of their parents is not a pleasant task and parents who resent it are usually impervious to improvement by it. Frankly hosts of parents lay themselves open to challenge and many children are quite aware of that fact. But the wise son or daughter will leave ungracious words to others and honor themselves by honoring their father and mother.

Domestic difficulties of this kind may result in tragic consequences for all. A peculiarly malicious bitterness attends fault findings and disputes in the home. The father sometimes ranges himself against the mother because the children are rebellious, but more frequently the mother sides with the children. Do you not agree on reflection that your attitude is too severe? Even though you may not have known them, there are countless homes where a fine and beautiful comradeship abounds.

It is so natural and spontaneous that the daughter can suggest father smokes too much and the son may mildly remonstrate with mother's irritations without censoriousness or jar. Grown sons and daughters should consider that they too may have to deal with children of their own and that those who love much must forgive much. You are right, of course, in assuming there are limits to parental authority, and it is equally true that some parents lack the good sense to recognize those limits. However, here as everywhere wise affection shows the way and those who follow it are not obsessed by a spirit of fault finding which too often degenerates into sourness and discord.

Diet and Health

MEDICS SHED NEW LIGHT ON SUBJECT OF HEADACHE

The life of a person who is subject to headaches certainly is one of torture. And among the varieties of headache, the kind in which there are recurrent attacks, with intervals of complete sensation of well-being, called migraine or sick headache, is one of the most frequent.

Dr Clendening

Its characteristics are that it appears in an individual usually in adult life, the attacks come on at irregular intervals and are accompanied by symptoms of digestive distress, the headache is usually on one side of the head, and the attack lasts for a few hours or days, and then goes away as suddenly and mysteriously as it came.

Many attempts have been made to elucidate the causes of this peculiar condition, and it is possible that in different cases different causes operate. For instance, it is supposed that in some cases it is due to allergy, to a hypersensitiveness to a particular kind of food, and some success has been reported in treating patients along the lines suggested by this idea, i. e., finding out what foods they are sensitive to and eliminating them from the diet.

Another group of cases has been reported in which apparently the amount of calcium in the body is too low. Such cases are frequently accompanied by muscular cramps during the attacks. During attacks, examination of the blood for calcium shows it to be under the normal limit. The supposition is that for some reason the parathyroid glands, which have to do with the control of calcium in the body, cease to function properly, and the headache is the result. It is well known that muscular cramps are a symptom of calcium deficiency of this sort.

Treatment has been by the use of viosterol, a substance which, like cod liver oil, contains Vitamin D, which serves to regulate the distribution of calcium in the body.

Extremely encouraging results have been reported from this treatment. A patient who was annoyed with frequent attacks of headache and cramps in the feet, who always had a low blood calcium, received viosterol. As a result, the blood calcium rose to normal limits and the attacks entirely subsided, the patient stating that she was perfectly well, without headache and nausea.

Certainly the remedy would be worth a trial because it is, so far as anybody knows, entirely harmless, and could be taken over a long period of time for purposes of trial without apprehension of any untoward results.

Counterfeit Currency Warning Is Issued

Business firms in Lincoln were warned Monday by federal secret service operatives to be on the lookout for counterfeit five and ten dollar federal reserve bank notes. The five dollar notes are on the Chicago and Minneapolis banks and the ten dollar bills are on the St. Louis bank.

Sixteen blank C. W. checks numbered 3045731 to 3045745, stolen from Bloomington, Ill., are also being passed in the middle west, the agents said.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Jerry Keeps Busy

In work much happiness doth lie;
You'll find it if you will but try.
—Jerry Muskrat.

Day by day the water in the Laughing Brook, the Smiling Pool and the Big River had dropped and dropped and dropped until at last the former was its old laughing self, the Smiling Pool dimpled and smiled as it is wont to do, and the Big River rolled smoothly and serenely on its way to the Great Ocean. The new home of Jerry and Mrs. Muskrat was finished. There wasn't a thing to be done to it. They had worked hard and persistently and now they were entitled to take things easy. It would seem that they could be as lazy as they pleased.

But Jerry is not the lazy kind. No, sir, Jerry is not that kind at all. He played about for a day or two, calling on his neighbors, getting the latest news, investigating the changes wrought by the great flood and taking things easy. Then he wanted to get to work again.

"My dear," said he to Mrs. Jerry, "not a single one of our old landing places remains. I have been all around, and there isn't one. All were washed away."

"We are going to need some new ones, then," replied Mrs. Jerry. "We need them ourselves, and they will be needed still more when the children come along. They will need places where they can safely sit, especially when they get big enough to get their own food."

'Just what I had in mind," said Jerry. "We'll need several of them. I think I'll get to work."

"Haven't you had work enough making this new house of ours?" asked Mrs. Jerry.

"No," said Jerry. "I've made a discovery since that was finished."

"What is that?" asked Mrs. Jerry, looking interested.

"That to be happiest one must be busy," replied Jerry. "I've seen the time when I envied those with nothing to do, but I don't any more. It was all right in winter when there was nothing we could do, and we slept a good part of the time, but now I want to be doing something."

Mrs. Jerry nodded in agreement. "I feel the same way," said she. "There is nothing like keeping busy to keep one happy."

"And so," said Jerry, "I am going to start work on a landing place at once. We ought to have one or two where the Laughing Brook enters the Smiling Pool. Suppose we go look things over there."

To this Mrs. Jerry agreed, and together they swam down almost to the Smiling Pool. It was low and swampy there. Alders and willows grew all about and there were big tussocks of coarse grass. And all along the edge of the Smiling Pool grew bulrushes and cat-tails and sweet flag. The water all about them was shallow, deep enough for swimming on the surface but not deep enough for times of sudden danger when they need to get well under water.

"What we need here are some canals or channels where the water will be deep enough for us to swim wholly under water," said Mrs. Jerry.

"Just what I was thinking," replied Jerry. "We will get a lot of our food here, and we need some comfortable places to sit while we eat. And we can do two jobs at once. While we are making these we can be digging the channels. What we dig up from the latter we will use to make the former. Now, what do you think of this place right here for a landing-place?"

"My dear," said he to Mrs. Jerry not a single one of our old landing places remains."

Mrs. Jerry agreed that it was as good a place as any, and Jerry promptly went to work, Mrs. Jerry helping for a time. They brought a lot of old rushes and flags and made a little pile of them. They dug mud from the bottom and piled this on the flags and rushes. So, little by little they built a little platform. After awhile it was up to the surface of the water. Jerry climbed out on it and sat there while he ate a piece of flag root. It tasted all the better for the work he had done.

Writers Guild Spring Meeting Is Arranged

Elmer Peterson, Dr. Palmer Findley and J. E. Lawrence Among The Speakers.

Elmer T. Peterson, editor of the magazine "Better Homes and Gardens" and author of the recent novel "Trumpets West," will be the chief speaker at the spring meeting of the Nebraska Writers' guild. The meeting will be held at the Lincoln hotel on Saturday, May 12, according to T. C. Diers, secretary-treasurer of the guild.

James E. Lawrence, editor of the Lincoln Star, will address the luncheon meeting on "Is There Material for Literary Treatment in Nebraska?" In the evening, Dr. Palmer Findley, author of "The Story of Childbirth," will speak on "Doctors in Literature."

Roundtable discussions on the subjects of fiction, articles and poetry, will feature the meeting. Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the University of Nebraska, author of several volumes of short stories, will lead the fiction discussion; Hazel Gertrude Kinscella, author of the newly published book, "Music On the Air," will have charge of the articles section; and Gilbert H. Doane, head librarian at the University of Nebraska, will lead the poetry discussion.

Mr. Diers said advance inquiries indicate one of the largest attendances in the history of the guild. One of the editors of the Capper publications at Topeka, Kas., may also appear on the program, according to Diers.

Two Norfolk Bank Robber Suspects Are Returned; Tornado Does Some Damage In Boone County

PAIR ARRESTED IN KANSAS TOWN

Witnesses to Take Look At Porteus and King Soon.

NORFOLK, Neb., April 30—(AP)—Ed M. Porteus and Ralph K. King, alias Schoen, suspects in the Security State bank robbery in Norfolk last October 26, who were brought to the city jail here about 2 o'clock this morning, some time today will be paraded before employes of the bank in an effort to link them with the holdup, County Attorney Carl H. Peterson announced this morning.

The two suspects, arrested last week at Waverly, Kas., arrived in Norfolk in the custody of Deputy State Sheriff Otto Dudschus and Deputy County Sheriff Chris Glissman of Norfolk, who went to Ottawa after the men Saturday. Both Porteus and King waived extradition.

Bank robbery charges have been filed against the two suspects, Peterson stated.

Authorities feel certain Porteus and King are two of the four gunmen who raided the Security State bank and escaped with $10,005. As the gunmen fled they took five hostages with them, releasing them after they had traveled several blocks.

Says Liquor Buyers Should Be Warned

Hutton Tells McCook People If Prohibition Repealed Bottles Should Be Labeled "Poison."

McCOOK, Neb., April 30—"If ever Nebraska repeals her state prohibition, the license law should require all alcoholic beverages to be sold in and served from containers bearing the standard label 'poison,' with skull and crossbones, and this legend: 'This beverage contains alcohol, a habit forming, narcotic drug poison, injurious to mind and body of its users'," said R. P. Hutton, state superintendent of the Anti-saloon league of Nebraska, speaking at the McCook Congregational church Sunday.

Continuing, he said: "Nebraska native snakes were rattlesnakes who, like gentlemen, tell the world to be on guard before they attack. If we are going to license snake holes and turn liquor snakes loose in Nebraska, at least make them as honest, as fair, and as gentlemanly as our native rattlesnakes."

In the McCook Christian church Sunday night, he said:

"Abe Sorensen's plank on liquor is the best of any candidate thus far announced for governor of Nebraska. If state prohibition is repealed Sorensen would force dealers to give adequate bond to pay all damages innocent persons might suffer because of the dealers' sales. That is good, but better is a warning beforehand to the prospective purchaser. If liquor ever is legalized in Nebraska, let us have both."

STATE KNIGHTS COLUMBUS MEET

Annual Convention Begins at Grand Island Sunday.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., April 30—(AP)—More than 200 delegates and visitors attended a banquet here Sunday evening at the opening of the annual convention of the Nebraska council, Knights of Columbus. John E. Fitzpatrick, state deputy, Omaha, presided as toastmaster.

The program, interspersed with musical numbers, featured addresses by Francis P. Matthews, Omaha, deputy supreme knight, and the Most Rev. S. V. Bona, D. D., bishop of Grand Island.

Bishop Bona, in extending welcome to visitors, was complimentary to state and local officers for accomplishments through the organization, and stressed the necessity for a continued unity of action, if the charitable and benevolent objectives are to be realized.

Mr. Mathews reviewed the history of the organization and said that opportunities have been only tapped. Community responsibility was emphasized as well as those objectives which pertain more directly to the various councils.

The banquet came after a day of religious ceremonies and the initiation of a class of more than thirty, the latter being during the afternoon with more than 300 knights in attendance.

HENRY H. LOVELL DIES.

OMAHA, April 30—(AP)—Henry H. Lovell, 60, died at his home here today after a long illness. He served as western agent for a number of insurance firms until he entered war service in 1918 in the field artillery, after the war resuming his insurance business and for several years publishing the Forum, an insurance paper. Because of comment in the Forum on an insurance case in Supreme court Lovell was sentenced to 10 days in jail for contempt, which he served in January 1929.

"Luminous Woman."

Men of science all over the world are interested in the case of Anna Morano (above), so-called "luminous woman," of Pirato, Italy. For some reason, as yet unexplained, a silver-toned light emanates from her body when she sleeps. Below is artist's conception of phenomenon.

PRAIRIE FIRES IN HOLT COUNTY

Blazes Started by Lightning Lay Large Area Waste.

CHAMBERS, Neb., April 30—(AP)—Residents of southern Holt county turned out by the hundreds Sunday to save their homes and farm buildings from five separate prairie fires which occurred within a radius of about seven miles of here between 9 and 5 o'clock.

The fighters, of whom there were an estimated 1,000, said the fires started from lightning striking hay stacks. Although there was lightning all day in this vicinity, the only report of rain was that a light sprinkle fell at O'Neill.

No serious injuries and no damage other than hay ground, was reported by the time the last fire was brought under control. Three general fire alarms were spread through the country by telephone. The last fire was the largest, and some said it could be seen for 20 miles.

The first fire started at 9 a. m. on the Robert Starr farm seven miles southeast of Chambers and burned several acres of prairie land. The second blaze was at 11 a. m. on the E. F. Porter property five miles east of here, and burned 10 acres of grass land.

The next fire was at 1 p. m. on a place six miles southwest of Chambers. About 15 acres of hay land burned. The property is owned by an insurance or loan company. The fourth fire was at 1.30 p. m. three miles southwest of here on the Ray Linehart farm and burned about eight acres.

The last and most serious of the fires was seven miles southwest of Chambers. It burned an area of several hundred acres, some of which was covered with rank brush and debris of an old lake bed. This was near the R. H. Parker property.

CHICAGO MINISTER ASSERTS NEW DEAL MUST GO FARTHER

OMAHA, April 30—(AP)—The annual meeting of the Nebraska Congregational conference closed here last night after four days of discussions.

Dr. Arthur E. Holt of Chicago, the speaker at both the afternoon and night sessions yesterday, warned the conference against over-organization of the church, saying that such might result in consumption of all the energy of the church "in making the wheels go around. The true purpose of the church is to inspire souls to go out and do that for which the church was organized."

In commenting on the "new deal," he said "the new deal has gone only about half as far as it must go, but it has gone in the right direction."

He told the conference that religion never has had greater opportunities than at the present and added "Religion must continue to do what it has done through all history but must do it more effectively."

"Pastors," he added, "must identify themselves not only with the spiritual but with the financial welfare of the common people."

Organize To Boost Kenneth Wherry For United States Senate

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., April 30—(AP)—"Kenneth Wherry of Pawnee City, for United States senator" was a slogan adopted at a meeting of about fifteen of his friends in central, eastern and southeastern Nebraska at a conference held here. Except to outline tentative plans for an organization of county and congressional district units, with headquarters at Omaha and Grand Island, all action was deferred until a second meeting is held here next Saturday night. Republicans were present from Omaha, Lincoln, Falls City, Beatrice, Pawnee City, Nebraska City, Superior, Fairbury, and Grand Island.

FARM HOLIDAY DEMONSTRATION

Paraders at Loup City Carry Banners Saying Are Communists.

LOUP CITY, Neb., April 30—(AP)—About 75 men, women and children participated in a "May day" parade here Sunday in which were displayed signs bearing inscriptions of "we are communists," "We are opposed to war," and "Stop farm foreclosures." The gathering, called by the Farmers Holiday association, Madison county plan, drew representatives from Sherman, Valley, Madison, Howard and Hall counties. In the parade were about 20 automobiles. Most of the delegation came from Grand Island.

A sign on the side of a motor truck which brought the Grand Island people said simply "Workers," and those attending the event explained that both farmers and workers were interested in the demonstration.

The leader of the parade was Carl Wickland of Sherman county. The farmers and workers met at a state park here in the morning and had a picnic lunch together at noon. The parade took place about 3 p. m., and shortly thereafter the group disbanded and started for their homes.

There were no special speakers at the meeting. Several participants in the affair gave impromptu speeches in which they discussed the troubles of the workers and the farmers.

Heart Attack Fatal To Frank W. Mumford

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., April 30—Frank W. Mumford, 65, prominent Gage county democrat, stock raiser and farmer, died Sunday at his home northeast of here from a heart attack. He was a brother of the late E. P. Mumford, secretary to former Governor Morehead, and also a brother of L. E. Mumford, Lincoln. His widow and three sons survive.

Augustana Lutheran Convention Is Ended

Services Held Simultaneously In Four Churches at Wakefield Sunday Morning.

WAKEFIELD, Neb., April 30—(AP)—Another annual convention of the Nebraska Augustana Lutheran conference was history today and conference officials awaited word from the Rev. John P. Milton of St. Paul, Minn., as to whether he will accept the presidency of Luther college at Wahoo.

The 1934 convention was climaxed yesterday with services held simultaneously in four Wakefield churches in the morning, and the meetings closed last night. The conference will meet in Wausa next year. Mr. Milton said he would not decide on the offer for several days.

The budget for the conference, which embraces Nebraska, Wyoming and South Dakota, was cut from $30,900 to $29,700 for the coming year, which means a per capita assessment of $297 per member. A control committee was authorized to collect or cancel existing deficits of churches to the conference prior to January 1, 1934.

Corn-Hog Reduction Campaign Nears End

Nebraska With 85,000 Stands Fourth Among States In Number Contracts Signed.

WASHINGTON, April 30—(AP)—The farm administration announced today that the corn-hog reduction campaign is nearing a close with 1,111,160 farmers' contracts signed. The sign-up campaign has closed in all of the leading corn-hog states and will be terminated shortly in others. Officials said the contracts signed represent a substantial portion of the commercial corn and hog production of the country.

Preliminary reports indicate Iowa, with 170,000 signed contracts, leads all other states, followed by Illinois with 125,000.

Other state totals include: Missouri 105,000; Nebraska 85,000; Indiana 80,000; Minnesota 80,000; Kansas 75,000; Ohio 60,000; and South Dakota 57,200. The corn-hog adjustment program calls for payment of $350,000,000 to co-operating farmers.

Playground Bought By Potter Legion

POTTER, Neb., April 30—(AP)—The American Legion post here has purchased a half block of ground in the west part of town, which it is making into a public playground for the children of the community. It will be known as Legion park. About 100 trees have been planted and irrigation water extended to the park.

FARM BUILDINGS ARE DESTROYED

No One Injured In Twister Near Loretto Sunday Night.

LORETTO, Neb., April 30—(AP)—A tornado ripped its way through three farms east of Loretto about 9:30 last night and destroyed all outbuildings, but the farm homes escaped damage.

Farms struck by the twister are those of Frank Seier, E. E. Porter and Frank Leifeld. The Erby Metz and Kettleston places east of Petersburg were struck, but the damage was slight. No one was injured.

The tornado followed the warmest day of 1934.

Omaha Senior Girl Marries Professor

OMAHA, April 30—(AP)—The secret marriage April 5 at West Point, Neb., of Miss Mary De Lene Brownlee, 23, senior student at the University of Omaha, and Dr. R. J. Maxwell, 38, Professor of foreign languages at the university, was revealed today. The bride herself announced it after several close friends and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Brownlee of Omaha had learned some of the facts. They had intended to keep the secret until June, when the bride will be graduated.

Robbers Break Into Elk Creek Stores

ELK CREEK, Neb., April 30—(AP)—Officers today were without clues to burglars who pried the front door locks off three business houses here early Saturday morning but got little. A few pennies were taken from the cash register of Beethe Brothers Hardware store, but the burglars were frightened away from Faimon's drug store before they opened the cash register. They pried the padlock off the F. B. Eversole general merchandise store but failed to force the regular lock.

BEATRICE, Neb., April 30—Henry Krueger, 42, was seriously injured today when he was caught in a shafting at the Beatrice brick works. Both legs and an arm were broken and his chest crushed.

Bancroft Celebrates Golden Anniversary

Town Is Half Century Old, Owns Its Own Water Plant and Is Entirely Free Of Debt.

BANCROFT, Neb., April 30—(AP)—Bancroft, debt-free, today celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the incorporation of the town and the opening of a five mile strip of the Omaha Indian reservation for settlement. An all day jubilee was scheduled and early settlers were invited to return to renew old acquaintances. A parade this morning, foot races, a basket lunch, a program and ball game in the afternoon and a dance tonight were planned.

The sale of the section of the Omaha reservation in Cuming county in 1884 threw open to actual settlers one of the finest sections of agricultural lands in the state. Hundreds of homesteaders flocked here to claim some of the land. Cattle and sheep were brought in by the early settlers and the land was quickly found suited for corn, wheat and hay.

Bancroft, with its 660 population, owns its own waterworks. Eight years ago it was without funds and now it doesn't owe a cent. R. L. Crawford, druggist, is mayor.

Fremont Depositors Will Get Dividend

FREMONT, Neb., April 30—(AP)—D. A. Becher, receiver for the failed Union National bank here, today said checks for $143,195 to pay a 40 per cent dividend to depositors will be distributed soon. This will bring the total amount returned to 65 per cent.

LOSES LIFE IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Omaha Contractor Is Killed While Driving In Louisiana.

OMAHA, April 30—(AP)—Fred M. Crane, Omaha, owner of the Crane Drainage and Construction company, was killed Saturday when his auto left a highway in Louisiana, according to word received by his family Sunday.

Mr. Crane, who was 60, had been engaged for the last year in draining swamp land near Tallulah, La., for the government.

The accident happened 15 miles from his camp while he was returning from a trip to New Orleans. The accident was not discovered for several hours.

Mrs. Crane and their two daughters, Barbara and Marian, are in Omaha.

Enjoys Home Comforts On The By-Ways

Fred Sidles Acquires Well-Furnished House Car.

THE great open spaces plus all the comforts of home has been the lot of Fred Sidles and a group of guests these moonlight nights. Mr. Sidles and "Virginia Jean," may be seen wandering down the highways and by-ways most any time, usually in the company of three or four other fortunates.

But perhaps it would be best to explain "Virginia Jean". It happens to be a lovely house on wheels which formerly belonged to some aerialists who traded it on a new car. Mr. Sidles had the house renovated and redecorated and now it is nothing short of a glorified compartment. It has an ice box, folding chairs, tables, lamps, an overstuffed davenport, radio, running water (by means of a pressure tank), and a swanky observation platform with awhings. Across the back of the car in large electric lights is its name, "Virginia Jean".

HOW DIFFERENT the lot of Admiral Byrd who complains he is having trouble with his pancakes down in Little America. The thermometer shows six above down there, but the Admiral is snowed in, and is trying out various pancake recipes without success. One of the nation's noted cooks wirelessed him a never-fail recipe the other night, explaining that the pancakes persisted in sticking because the gridle hadn't been treated correctly. She told him that it should be greased and placed in the oven several times. Which, Admiral Byrd replied, would be all right if he had an oven.

Business Women To Hold Convention In Lincoln Next Year

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., April 30 —(AP)—Lincoln was announced as the 1935 convention city of the Nebraska Business and Professional Women's club. The organization's board of directors chose Lincoln after considering Falls City, Crete and Beatrice, also. The peak of the registration at the convention which ended Sunday, was 214 and more than 300 attended a banquet Saturday night. The state federation adopted a new constitution, and it was reported that the six clubs started within the last year brought the membership to 36 clubs. The new clubs are at Ashland, Alliance, Minden, Ord, Lexington and Nebraska City.

Last Relief Garden Seed Distribution Being Made

Distribution of the last carload of garden seeds furnished by the federal relief administration to Nebraska is now being made from Omaha to families in 13 counties. Each family on the list will get 12 varieties of seed, in amounts proportionate to their available ground for planting. The allotments are being made through county organizations.

Counties participating in this division are Douglas, Dodge, Washington, Burt, Cuming, Thurston, Dakota, Madison, Dixon, Cedar, Knox, Pierce, and Antelope.

A delegation of Lincoln labor representatives will be given a hearing Wednesday forenoon at 9:30, by State Tax Commissioner Smith, State Engineer Cochran, and Federal Agent Haynes, constituting the executive board of the state relief committee, in regard to family budgets and rates of pay for work relief under the present plan of operation.

This confab will precede the meeting of the full committee in the afternoon of the same day.

ROTARY BEGINS DISTRICT MEET

Strong Movement For G. W. Nash, Yankton, For President.

OMAHA, April 30—(AP)—A strong movement to elect G. W. Nash, president of Yankton, S. D., college, governor of the 19th district of Rotary International was instituted as the three-day assembly of the district opened here today.

If the campaign of South Dakota Rotarians attending is successful, Nash will succeed Governor Hugh A. Butler of Omaha, who told delegates at the opening session today that Rotary's big job during the coming year will be to aid in "getting us back on the recovery track." Several hundred delegates and their wives—the Rotary Anns—registered today.

The Omaha Rotary club today entertained at a luncheon with Dr. Guy E. Cutshall chancellor of Nebraska Wesleyan university, as the principal speaker. Speakers on the afternoon convention program included Charles W. Pugsley, Brookings, S. D., a former district governor.

Robert R. Hastings, Crete, is the chairman of the resolutions committee, and W. T. Souders of Kearney, of the elections committee. sixty-three clubs in the district—40 in Nebraska, 14 in South Dakota and nine in western Iowa—are represented at the conference, which officials predicted would attract a total attendance of 750 persons.

Union Church Marks 24th Anniversary

Celebrating the twenty-fourth anniversary of the building of the Union church building at 4619 Prescott avenue, members of the church will hold special services beginning Tuesday night and ending Sunday evening.

Rev. Frank Mills, pastor of the church since its founding in 1909, one year before the building was erected, will preside over the services.

Highlight of the celebration will be the re-dedication of the church at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The cornerstone, which was opened April 23 to secure some historical data which had been lost, will be re-sealed.

Opening the celebration will be a get-together dinner Tuesday evening of past and present Sunday school teachers and officers. Rev. J. W. Henderson, formerly an assistant pastor at the church, will be the principal speaker.

Wednesday evening, the ladies' circle of the church will meet for a fellowship rally, and on Thursday night Rev. J. W. Henderson will again deliver an address at the weekly "church night."

"The Challenge of the Cross," a religious drama, will be presented by the Christian Endeavor at the church Friday night.

Sunday's services will open with a "praise service" from 8 to 9 o'clock. Following regular Sunday school service, Rev. Frank Mills will preach a sermon on the subject "Fruits." The re-dedication service will be held in the afternoon. Marion Marrow will lead the Christian Endeavor meeting at 7 o'clock Sunday night, which will be followed by an evangelistic service at 8 o'clock.

Built at a cost of $18,000, the church stands completely free of debt, Rev. Mills said. Union church is undenominational.

DR. WIRT TAKES ANOTHER RAP AT "NEW DEALERS"

Says America On Way With Revolution By Means of Evolution.

CHICAGO, April 30—(AP)—Dr. William A. Wirt, Gary, Ind., educator, charged today that there was "frantic struggling to conceal the aims of official Washington."

In his speech at an American Legion luncheon, his first public statement since the congressional committee declared his revolution charges were "unfounded," Dr. Wirt singled out former Senator Smith W. Brookhart, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Rexford G. Tugwell and Speaker Henry T. Rainey as having made disturbing statements.

"There are those who have accused me of looking under the bed for reds and bombs," he said. "There is a difference between red-baiting and keeping watch on actual happenings in Washington."

Says Recovery Destroyed.

Dr. Wirt implied that "government officials" have blocked rather than aided recovery. "We actually had recovery in 1933," he declared, "and destroyed it. We lost our recovery during August, 1933, and have not regained it."

"The new dealers stated they did not want that recovery; they wanted to wait for their own type because it would be more substantial.

"Private industry cannot possibly assume the burden of restoring jobs to the unemployed so long as government officials are actually placing obstacles in their way. I have not called this treason, but I do consider it most deplorable."

Quotes Brookhart.

He quoted Brookhart as saying that his own farm bill was in itself a revolution, and repeated his statement that Speaker Rainey predicted last fall that the government would shortly take over "certain industries."

Dr. Wirt declared flatly: "Certainly we are on our way with a revolution by means of evolution and there is no limit to how far we can go."

"I am alarmed when I am told that we must have the brain trusters' economic planning, and that if it does not work it will be because the planning has not been extended far enough. I believe the plans of the brain trusters are unworkable and that they can be made to work only by going the full way to communism, socialism or Hitlerism."

As for the question of who called President Roosevelt the "Kerensky of the American revolution," a major issue in the Wirst investigation, Dr. Wirt today quoted a magazine writer as having written that the president himself had "half jokingly" referred to himself that way.

Quotes Christians.

Today he told what he said Raymond Moley heard George W. Christians say to the president, in 1932.

Christians said to the president-elect that he was the Kerensky of a new revolution and would have to make way for a stronger dictator of the Lenin type who would lead an American economic revoldt.

"Christians said he told Mr. Roosevelt 'if you move to the third stage of the revolution, the Lenin dictatorship stage, you'll be the first man to do so.' The president-elect replied:

"'Well, Oliver Cromwell did it!'"

Wirt added one new charge to his string.

"A government official is reported to have threatened a certain newspaper with punishment," he said, "if it did not stop critising the government."

Fernando Robles. June's father two hours after she was spirited away last Wednesday, will be followed, it was indicated, or a new arrangement will be made if the kidnapers choose to communicate an amended plan.

Girl Missing Since Wednesday.

United States department of justice agents already have taken a hand in attempts to effect the safe return of the brown-eyed girl who was kidnaped last Wednesday. They were understood to have expressed approval of the mission of the elder Robles, at whose wealth the $15,000 ransom demanded was directed.

Monday Last Day For Corn Loan Requests

Railway Comissioner Hugh Drake promised that every corn loan application received Monday, the last day of the federal loan program, will be serviced before midnight, if they continue coming in that late. About fifty applications were brought in personally on Monday morning and J. F. Miller, commission secretary, said the number probably would reach 100. Applications must bear the signature of the county clerk and be postmarked April 30 in order to be eligible for loans. Drake said a complete audit of the commission's corn warehousing activities will be ready within a few days after the program closes.

$7,611 FERA Payroll To Be Paid Tuesday

The Lancaster county FERA payroll Tuesday will be $7,641.20, disbursed to 679 men and women, the largest number shown since the opening of the emergency relief program, H. R. Jobst, county director of the work division, said Monday. The increase over the payroll for the same day a week ago is 189 men and $1,688.90. The number of persons now on all payrolls is 1,699.

TO HEAR FERA PROTESTS.

State Relief Chairman W. H. Smith Monday said a delegation representing union labor in Lincoln will be given a chance to present requests for changes in FERA wage rates to the state sub-committee Wednesday morning. The sub-committee is composed of Smith, State Engineer Roy Cochran and Rowland Haynes, federal relief agent. Haynes said the unions wanted a 50 cent an hour rate established for unskilled labor instead of 40 cents.

J. J. SULLIVAN DIES.

James J. Sullivan of Martel, a resident of Nebraska for about 60 years, died at a local hospital early Monday afternoon. He is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Margaret Flynn, Mrs. James Sullivan and Miss Amelia Sullivan all of Lincoln, and Miss Kate Sullivan of Topeka, Kas.; and three brothers, John F. Sullivan and Dan L. Sullivan both of Martel and Tim Sullivan of Denton. The body is at Wadlow's mortuary.

Lincoln Bank Clearings Gain $2,500,000 In April

Lincoln bank clearings in April were nearly $2,500,000 greater than in the same month a year ago. Total for the month was $8,518,317, compared with $6,139,491 last year. Clearings in March were $9,479,332, but March is normally an unusually active month.

DARING ESCAPE OF 3 CONVICTS AT OHIO PRISON

Break Occurs at Pen Where Dillinger Aides Are Confined.

COLUMBUS, April 30— (AP) — Three convicts with a smuggled pistol who slid over the wall of Ohio penitentiary after disarming a guard were free today as Warden P. E. Thomas promised "an investigation indefinitely until we can find out, if possible, where the gun came from."

The three prisoners are Martin Schmidt, a bank robber; Arthur R. Koontz, an auto thief, and Rufus Deeds, robber.

Flourishing the pistol, the men cowed 14 fellow convicts and two civilian officials, climbed a ladder to the top of the wall on the pretext of repairing a searchlight, disarmed the tower guard and took a shotgun from the guard and cut the telephone wires.

The three convicts stole an automobile as soon as they reached free ground and reports to Columbus police indicated they changed automobiles twice after that.

Dillinger Trio in Prison.

Harry Pierpont, Charles Makley and Russell Clark, Dillinger gangsters, apparently knew nothing of the plot. Pierpont and Makley are awaiting electrocution for the murder of Sheriff Jess L. Sarber in a jail raid at Lima, O., to free Dillinger. Clark is serving a life sentence.

Today's break started in the power house where the convicts forced 14 convicts to an ash pit and locked Ed Briggs, assistant engineer, in an ice house. The chief engineer, Roy Davidson, noticed the steam pressure falling and hurried to the power house. He was locked in the ice house, too.

The convicts then forced another guard to turn over a ladder and made for the wall.

Gilmore Is Acting Head of Iowa U.

IOWA CITY, Ia., April 30—(AP)—Dr. George F. Zook, federal commissioner of education, today declined an invitation to succeed Dr. Walter A. Jessup as president of the University of Iowa.

Dr. Jessup will remain in indirect charge of the university until July 1. He left Iowa City Saturday to take up his new duties as head of the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching in New York.

Lincoln Will Seek Rotary Convention

Large Delegation To Go To Omaha and Attempt To Land Next District Gathering.

About 100 Rotarians Tuesday will make a concentrated drive in Omaha to have the district conference of Rotary at Lincoln in 1935. Six members of the local club will speak at various affairs during the convention, and all members will wear high hats around the city urging that the convention come here next year.

The local club will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary next year and if the convention comes here it is hoped that the founder of International Rotary, Paul P. Harris, can be obtained for the program.

Robert Van Pelt, O. J. Allison, Dr. E. S. Wegner and L. C. Oberlies will speak at four different noon luncheons. Verne Hedge will address a general assembly in the afternoon and Mrs. H. P. Davis will speak at the governor's banquet in the evening. Herb D. Gish is chairman of the On-to-Omaha committee for the local club.

Members who do not go to Omaha meeting will attend the junior division luncheon for Harry Tregoe.

Mrs. Dollie Robinson, Resident of Lincoln Since 1905, Is Dead

Mrs. Dollie Robinson, 79, resident of Lincoln since 1905, died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Leona R. Bates, 2000 South Eighteenth street, at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. She was the widow of the late Edward J. Robinson, former employe in the county treasurer's office and examiner for the state treasurer's office. She formerly lived in South Dakota.

She is survived by her daughter; a son, Edwin K. Robinson; and four grandchildren, Dorothy and Alice Bates and Arthur and Morlan Robinson, all of Lincoln. The body is at the Bates home in charge of Roberts.

Missouri Troops Being Mobilized; Miners on March

LAMAR, Mo., April 30—(AP)—Warned to expect 1,000 trouble-making miners from the Pittsburg, Kas., mining district, possibly bent on destruction of machinery, the national guard and state patrolmen were being mobilized at Minden, west of here on the Kansas line, this afternoon.

Ajt. Gen. H. W. Brown at Jefferson City, who ordered three battalions of the guard to the scene of expected trouble, said:

"Reports received here were that hundreds of miners were on their way to Lamar from Pittsburgh, Kas., and planned to blow up the steam shovels at the mines near Lamar, Minden and Liberal."

MOTHER DROWNS SELF AND BABY

SUPERIOR, Wis., April 30—(AP)—Clasping her 10-day-old baby to her breast, Mrs. Kate Ylitalo, 30, town of Lakeside, today threw herself into the Shallow Amnicon river near her home and both were drowned.

Her husband, Andrew, said she had not slept much all night because of worry over an attack of colic with which the baby was suffering.

MASTER MIND BEING SOUGHT IN BREMER CASE

Federal Agents Think Kidnaping Grew Out Swindle Racket.

CHICAGO, April 30—(AP)—A master swindler was sought by federal agents today in a fresh angle of the search for the kidnapers of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker.

The hunted "master mind" was reported to have duped a friend of Bremer out of $50,000. The victim was reported to have been Martin Wunderlich, St. Paul contractor; and the man sought, William Elmer Mead, ex-convict. Wunderlich, at his home in Jefferson City, Mo., said he had told federal officers his story, but would not make public the details.

Five other men are being held—four charged with conspiracy to obtain ransom money in the Bremer case. The federal men pressed for further arrests in the case, fearing that others who might talk would be "silenced."

The government theory is that the swindlers met their victim about a year ago in a South Bend, Ind., hotel. The leader of the confidence men told him of an acquaintance who had won large sums on horse races by wire tapping.

Allegedly Won $900,000.

The swindlers and the victim allegedly "won" approximately $900,000 before the supposed bookmaker asked for evidence that they could have paid, if they had lost. The victim is supposed to have called upon Bremer in St. Paul, obtaining $50,000 which he carried back to South Bend. That was the end of the money, as far as he was concerned.

Agents said that then the swindlers passed along word that Bremer had money and the kidnapers seized him January 17. He was released after payment of $200,000.

The five men held were caught in the net of authorities seeking traces of the Bremer kidnaping ransom. They are John J. "Boss" McLaughlin, former Illinois legislator; his son, John, jr.; William E. Vidler, ex-convict who was arrested with $2,665 of the Bremer cash in his pocket last week; and two others, as yet unidentified.

The authorities said they believed a connection existed between the kidnapers and a "hot money" ring operating in several cities. This ring is suspected of disposing of ransom monies, stolen bonds, securities and specie to an estimated total of $50,000,000.

Driest April Since 1910 Recorded Here; Farmers are Worried

and that these fears are largely unfounded but rain must come within a few days if it is to avert the loss of most of the crop," the county agent stated. Mr. Purbaugh pointed out the drouth condition is more serious in the south part of the county than in the north because less rain was received during 1933 in the southern portion.

Weather bureau reports show the hot weather prevails throughout the state. Maximum temperatures were reported for the 24 hours preceding 7 o'clock as follows: North Platte, 88; Omaha, 86; Sioux City, 84, and Valentine, 88.

"Approaching Crisis."

A. E. Anderson, state and federal agricultural statistician, said the shortage of moisture is approaching the critical stage, but the margin of safety is still sufficient that undue fear for spring crops is unwarranted, although good rains would be extremely beneficial now.

"We had good rains to the middle of September, when conditions were ideal," Anderson said. "There was a drouth to the first of December, when the whole state received moisture in the form of snow or rain ranging from one to one inch and a half. Light snows fell in early March and a few counties received snow and rain totaling from an inch to an inch and a half of moisture later."

Anderson said a report reaching him from Saline county said wheat there is "awfully bad."

"Wheat is now at the size where it is pulling heavily on scant moisture available," Anderson said. "Transpiration is heavy with warm temperatures and the high winds that are prevailing."

serving since October, 1932, a sentence in the Lewisburg, Pa., penitentiary for violating the national prohibition law in New Hampshire, he asked the high court for a ruling on whether the prison doors should not be opened to those serving terms.

Rates on natural gas fixed by the Dayton Power & Light Co. at various places in Ohio were set aside today by the supreme court. The decision sustained rates fixed by the Ohio public utilities commission.

The supreme court will hear arguments early this week, probably tomorrow, on the legality of Gov. William Langer's North Dakota wheat embargo.

Telephone rates for Chicago, fixed by the Illinois commerce commission in 1923 but never put in force, were sustained today by the supreme court.

The rates—a reduction — were challenged by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. as confiscatory, unreasonable and contrary to law.

CRICKET PLAGUE THREATENS CROPS IN SOUTH IDAHO

BOISE, Ida., April 30—(AP)—The devastating "Mormon" crickets, which came into prominence in 1848 when they threatened first colonists in Utah with starvation, have appeared in a half dozen spots of southern Idaho to carry on the destruction they started last year.

Big black creatures two inches long when full grown, they eat everything in sight. When banded together they have mastered almost every device set up against them except tin fences and poison dust.

Packed into almost solid phalanxes, they move toward cultivated fields and their eating sounds like wind blowing constantly among the leaves.

Doctor Discloses Laboratory Babies Are Now A Fact

NEW YORK, April 30—(AP)—Laboratory babies, in a broad sense of the word, have become a fact, it became known today upon the birth of twins to a couple living in Long Island.

Dr. Frances Seymour, woman obstetrician, confirmed the mother's claim to her "test tube" babies and said theer had been eight successful deliveries in New York City since experimentation in this line of scientific endeavor was started two years ago by herself and Dr. Alfred Koerner.

Thirteen successful artificial inseminations have been made, she said, eight of them deliveries so far. Eleven, she said, were actually the offsprings of the husband and wife concerned and different only in that impregnation was scientific.

"The other two mothers are both prominent business women," she stated. "They wanted babies but were unmarried. They felt they had a rightto have children. One now has a baby 9 months old. The other will give birth any day now."

In the first instance, the physician pointed out definitely, the babies are actually of the parents own flesh and blood. In the second, the father is anonymous save to the physician.

In the case of eugenic babies, Dr. Seymour said, the fathers are carefully picked and tested.

PRIEST IS SLAIN BY CRAZED MAN

Killed Shielding Sister-in-Law, Who Is Critically Wounded.

JERSEY CITY, April 30—(AP)—Dominick Marra's "delusions of persecution" were blamed today for the slaying of a priest and the wounding of the priest's sister-in-law at the rectory of the church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel yesterday.

Marra, a carpenter, entered the rectory just after Rev. Julius Moscati, 62, had officiated at noon mass. The priest was slain when he attempted to shield his sister-in-law, Mrs. Christina Moscati. A bullet penetrated his heart. Mrs. Moscati was shot three times. Her condition today is critical.

Marra, running from the place, was captured by a passing policeman who had heard the shots. He told police that Mrs. Moscati owed him $245 in connection with some work he had done and that he sought to collect it.

Relatives of the man said he suffered a severe head injury three weeks ago and that since then he has suffered "delusions of persecution."

INCREASE IN PAY TO SOUP CANNERS

CAMDEN, N. J., April 30—(AP)—Arthur C. Dorrance, president of the Campbell Soup Co., where 2,000 workers are on strike, announced today that a higher wage scale has been put into effect.

Under the new scale, hourly men rated at 46.6 cents per hour are advanced to 50 cents, and women rated at 33.3 cents an hour will receive 36 cents. Dorrance said boys who received 33.2 cents an hour will be paid 40 cents.

The skirmish came as a rumor of Dillinger's death was gaining circulation. This report had it that the desperado may have been mortally wounded when he and his pals blazed their way out of the Little Bohemia resort country near Mercer, Wis., a week ago this morning.

The rumor, heard several times since the greatest manhunt of the decade began, received official notice last night. Melvin H. Purvis, chief of the Chicago office of the government's bureau of investigation, made the terse announcement that federal officers had been "unable to verify reports that Dillinger is dead in Wisconsin."

"We are still looking for him," he added.

"All poppycock" was the comment of Tom McGreggor, sheriff of Vilas county, where last week's gunplay cost the lives of a federal officer and a private citizen.

Says All Accounted For.

"Everyone who was at the Little Bohemia resort when the shooting started has been accounted for," the sheriff said. "The gang didn't have time to bury anyone and they were too busy getting away to take along any cripples. If Dillinger is dead from bullet wounds, he was shot somewhere else—not at Little Bohemia."

He added that every inch of ground for several miles around the Little Bohemia resort had been combed for traces of the Dillinger mob, without yielding any clue that would substantiate the theory that the notorious outlaw was dead.

Federal investigators at St. Paul declined to discuss the report, but continued to push their investigation, begun eight weeks ago after Dillinger, with his wooden gun, bluffed his way out of the Crown Point, Ind., jail.

There was the usual crop of reports on the whereabouts of Dillinger.

Dillinger and some of his gang were reported to have been seen in the vicinity of Fort Wayne, Ind. Purvis sent a squad of heavily armed federal agents into that territory, but their quarry—if there was one—eluded them. Northern Minnesota meanwhile was the hunting ground in the search for Nelson, also reported "seen" at Marshfield, Wis.

Lois Pyscher Winner W.C.T.U. Oratory Medal

Miss Lois Pyscher, 6502 Holdrege street, was awarded the W. C. T. U. silver medal in a contest held in the First Lutheran church Sunday evening. Her oration was entitled "One Glass."

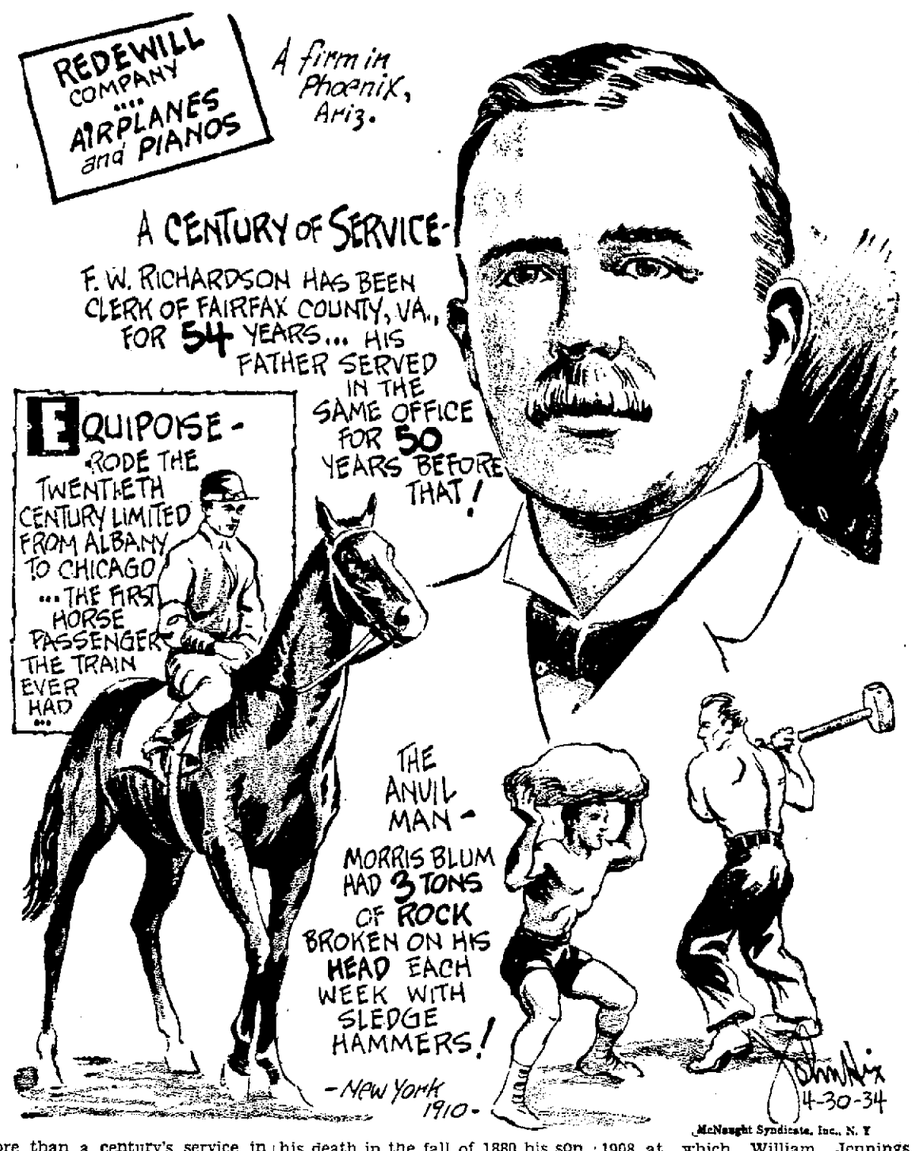

Four other contestants competed. Judges were Mrs. L. E. Van Horn, Miss Josie Sullivan, and Rev. C. A. Park. Miss Anna Parkins directed the contest and presided.

More than a century's service in the clerk's office of Fairfax county, Virginia, is represented in the careers of F. W. Richardson, present incumbent, and his father, the late Capt. Ferdinand Dawson Richardson. The father served 50 years, the son is rounding out his fifty-fourth year. The drawing above is after a photograph taken several years ago.

Capt. Richardson first became a deputy county clerk under William Moss in 1830, later becoming clerk of the county and circuit courts. Upon his death in the fall of 1880 his son, then 27 years old, was appointed to finish the term.

This appointment was affirmed by voters a the next county election, and the younger Mr. Richardson was elected for another term. Since then he has served continuously. The presen term of office will expire the last of next year.

Mr. Richardson, present county clerk, who describes himself as "a Methodist, Mason and old-time democrat," was a delegate to the national convention in Denver in 1908 at which William Jennings Bryan was nominated as candidate for the presidency.

Morris Blum, the "anvil man," appeared on the stage in New York. His act was to hold a 100-pound rock resting against his head while a partner in the act broke he heavy rock with a 15-pound sledge hammer. Srtange as it seems, Mr. Blum was never knocked down during the act.

House-Cleaning Portends In Gotham Garden

New Boss, Once Taking Charge, Proposes Toss Out 'Jabbering Jim'

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, April 30—(INS)—Col. John S. Hammond, a gentleman with silvery hair and golden backing, has until 2 o'clock this afternoon to take up an option on the controlling interest in Madison Square Garden. That's one of the things that will be decided down in Wall street today during an important business meeting, the exact nature of which I do not know. However, the average business meeting down there nowadays extends certain assurances to the individual. No matter what happens, one can always comfort himself with the feeling that he has been pushed around by aristocrats.

New Deal; New Promoter.

Among other things supposed to be passed upon is the proposed hurling of James J. Johnston and Col. John R. Kilpatrick out upon their countenances and the establishing of a new setup for the Baer-Carnera fight, although this is strictly surmise.

So is the story that George Blake, Jimmy Bronson, Jack Curley and Tom McArdle are being considered as the new deal's candidate for boxing promoter.

This is a transaction involving the immediate payment of $800,000 and I don't think anybody is impressed right now with the importance of hiring or firing an employee who makes $15,000 a year.

Col. Hammond has announced that he will have a statement for the press tomorrow, which gives a fair idea of the confident and assured state of the colonel's mind at this time. However, these are a few statements I'm sure the colonel will not make:

Quietly Buying Stock.

He has been quietly buying Garden stock ever since he was hurled out two years ago upon his haircut. The "bank roll" behind his syndicate is a man by the name of Emory, although just who he is and what he has nobody seems to know. Their option that must be acted upon today calls for the payment of $245,000. This covers the 35,000 shares of Richard F. Hoyt, who, departing for Europe, has left behind the word that he must have $7 a share or he won't play.

Mr. Hoyt is the man who wanted to hurl Richard out upon his dandruff, so maybe it's just as well he's planning to retire. In a moment of reverie, he might have dismissed the governor.

As for Hammond, his plans are not generally known, except in one respect. If he buys Hoyt's shares today, he'll be the new president of Madison Square Garden and Mr. Kilpatrick will be out on the sidewalk with his hat in his hand. Mr. Kilpatrick was once a great football player at Yale, but the impression around town is that he must have lingered too long under those New Haven elms. In fact, as far as some of the boys are concerned, he's still under them.

HIGH TEAMS BOOK STRING OF MEETS

Prepsters Busy This Week In Getting Ready For State Classic.

The final week of preparation for the Nebraska high school track and field cahmpionships opens with a Tuesday program including several meets of major importance in prep cinder circles.

Featuring the mid-week card is the Southern Nebraska championships at Clay Center. Schools in the conference are Nelson, Superior, Hebron, Geneva, Exeter, Fairmont, Sutton, Harvard, Edgar, Fairfield and Clay Center.

Several former Cornhusker varsity men have their names on the Southern conference record books. John Roby holding the marks in the sprints and broad jump, while Harold Petz is the record-holder in the two hurdle events.

Clarks Invitational.

Clarks will be host to an invitational meet in which 14 senior highs, four junior highs and 21 rural schools will compete. The meet is a three-group affair and is expected to draw 300 athletes.

Butler county teams will gather at Bellwood and Pawnee county squads will meet at Pawnee City. Southwest Nebraska leaders will be among those competing in the Cambridge invitational.

The Tri-Valley conference, a comparatively new circuit, will settle its championships at Kearney.

Other conference meets of importance include the Cedar Valley meet at Scotia, Northeast Nebraska compet at Randolph.

COUNTY LOOP HAS PROSPEROUS YEAR

FALLS CITY, Neb., April 30—The 10 schools in the Richardson county high school league this year split a surplus of $250 as the profit of the league events. Enough money remained in the treasury to operate the league next year without dues.

Supt. Owen L. Donohoe, Stella, has been elected president of the association. Clyde Moore, Verdon, is treasurer, and R. F. Cook, Rulo, secretary.

American Association.

Kansas City 13; Milwaukee, 3.
Indianapolis, 9-3; Louisville 1-2.
Toledo, 8, Columbus 7 (10 innings).
St. Paul, 1; Minneapolis, 7.

2 Games This Week On Lincoln Hi Book

A two-game schedule confronts the Lincoln high baseball team this week as the Red and Black pastimers, who have only one victory this season, play Elmwood and Hickman. The strong Elmwood club invades the Capital city for a game Tuesday afternoon at 3:30, while Hickman will entertain the Andrewsmen Friday on the Hickman diamond.

Dick Bradley probably will assume the hurling duties Tuesday, with Howard Dean behind the plate. Bradley pitched Lincoln to its one triumph of the year, a 27-7 rout of Hickman in the first home game.

HOMERS COMING EASY IN MAJORS

Ott's Five to Date Means 77 for Season If He Holds to Pace.

BY PAT ROBINSON.

NEW YORK, April 30—(INS)—Apparently Babe Ruth had the right hunch when he said Jimmy Foxx might set up a new home run mark this year. Bill Terry also must have known something about the amount of rabbit in the new ball when he intimated that little Mel Ott might surpass both Ruth and Foxx.

Today Babe has already made three homers, Foxx four and Ott five. At his present speed, Mel would make 77 for the season. Either home runs are coming easier this season or the pitching is much softer in spots.

There is no doubt the pitching has been decidedly spotty. One day we see a Hubbell or a Warneke turning in a sensational performance and the next we get a look at a parade of Philly and Dodger throwers.

Ruth's Homer Decides Game.

Of course, any hitter is liable to make a homer off the best of pitchers at any time, but it's a cinch that the good hitters are going to murder poor pitching all the time.

Ruth's homer off Weiland gave the Yanks their 3 to 2 margin over the Red Sox yesterday, but Foxx's fourth round trip sock went for naught when Joe Cronin's hit in the ninth gave the Senators a 7 to 6 decison over the Athletics.

More than 30,000 turned out in Detroit to see the home team walloped by the Indians, 7 to 1. Hilderbrand and Lloyd Brown holding the Tigers to half a dozen hits.

Weaver Stops White Sox.

Big Jm Weaver held the White Sox to four hits while the rest of the Brownies pounded out a 6 to 2 victory to keep the Sox in the cellar. Here was another sample of a great hitter getting a homer off fine pitching, for one of the four Sox hits was a homer by Al Simmons.

Neither Ott's fifth homer nor his two doubles could save the Giants from a 6-4 beating at the hands of the Braves. Huck Betts couldn't get Mel out, but he had little trouble with the rest of the Giants, who kicked in with four errors to make Hal Schumacher's ob doubly tough.

Walker Baffles Cubs.

Nor did two homers by Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs save Pat Malone from taking a 9 to 4 drubbing from the Cardinals. Bill Walker gave nine hits, but he was effective with men on base. Strangely enough, Walker, Hallahan and Carleton have turned in good games for the Cards, while the boastful Dean brothers have shown nothing.

Red Lucas, now a Pirate in good standing, trimmed his old buddies, the Reds, 9 to 5, in a woozy game in which four men hit homers, and the Phillies and Dodgers staged one of those comical affairs for which they are noted, the Dodgers staggering in, 8 to 7. Only nine pitchers took part in this one, which is about par for those two outfits, and Frank Pearce, the disappearing Philly, had the defeat chalked up to him. No wonder he wanted to flee from the Phillies.

WOOD TEAM WINS OPENER OF SEASON

Wood's Furnitures, the team which will replace the Gooch outfit in the City league this season, opened the 1934 baseball campaign with a 3-2 victory at Clatonia Sunday. Robinson toiled six innings for the Furnitures striking out 12 men and holding Clatonia without a run. Handy pitched the last three innings and fanned four batters. Manager Bill Jennings, phone FO 471, is seeking games. Score:

WEIGHT RECORDS DUE FOR TUMBLE

Nebraska High Athletes Tuning Up to Make New Marks.

BY GREGG M'BRIDE.

Wholesale smashing of the weight records when the elite of Nebraska high school trackdom gathers at the University of Nebraska Memorial stadium, Saturday, May 12, was forecast by performances in Cornhusker prep circles last week. Here's what the prepsters did to the marks:

Shot put—Bob Mills, Lincoln, heaved the iron ball 51 feet 3 inches in Crete dual meet. Francis Hardwick, Parks, did 50 feet in practice. Leon Swiatoviak, Huntley, recorded 48 feet 6 inches in pentathlon competition. The state record is 49 feet.

Javelin—"Chick" Williamson, Alliance midget, cast the javelin 172 feet 5 inches to win the Western Nebraska conference event at Scottsbluff. Lawrence Nelson, Curtis, did 167 feet 3 inches. The prep record is 170 feet 9 inches.

Discus—Francis Hardwick Parks, hurled the platter 134 feet 6 inches in the pentathlon and in practice got seven throws past 140 feet, one measuring 144 feet. The state record is 130 feet 9 inches.

Leaders Likely to Be Pushed.

Other weight men promise to push these leaders when the time rolls around for the state meet. Other shot marks of better than 46 feet were made last week by Elliott Omaha Central; Taylor, Bayard; Beaver, Tekamah; Tucker, Table Rock; Ashburn, Tilden.

Hardwick's discus toss, of course, set the pace for the platter men. Other tosses beyond 120 feet include Lupher, Minatare; Klas, Tilden; Elliott, Omaha Central; Mills, Lincoln. Other leaders included L. Scott Arapahoe; Davidson, Cozad; Beaver, Tekamah; Tucker Table Rock; Mowry, Minatare.

Ace javelin performances along with those of Williamson and Nelson were 163 feet 4 inches by Frank, St. Edward; 163 feet by Tucker, Table Rock, and 161 feet 2 inches by Kristufek, Crete. Those beating 150 feet included Dyer, Hemingford; Seymour, Laurel; Beaver, Tekamah; Leahy, Peru.

Best Jump Performances.

The best marks in the jumps were turned in by Virgil Watts of Huntley and Kildahl of Benson. Watts cleared 6 feet 1¾ inches during the Harlan county meet and Kildahl made 6 feet at the Omaha North invitation. Wuster of Dawson did 5 feet 10 inches and H. Trimble, Gothenburg, beat 5 feet 8 inches. Those to sail over 5 feet 7 inches included Lee, Rokeby; Tomek, Table Rock; Watson, Oxford; Heigh, Alliance; Hooper, Scottsbluff; Lackey, Minatare.

Jack Dodd, Gothenburg vaulter who has a mark of 12 feet this season, made the pace for the bamboo boys last week with 11 feet 6 inches during the Southwest meet. Sheely, Bellevue, cleared 11 feet 3 inches. Those beating 10 feet 9 inches included Short, Norfolk, Ely, Auburn; Pennington, Lebanon. Other good performances were by Barnes, Tecumseh; Avery, Pawnee City.

Two broad jumpers stretched out 21 feet or better last week. Hooper of Scottsbluff won the Western meet with 21 feet 1¾ inches and Shaffer of Auburn did an even 21 feet in the Southeast Nebraska conference compet at Peru. Dodd, Gothenburg, was only an inch shot of 21 feet. McCloughan, Mason City speedster, was credited with 20 feet 10½ inches and Icenogle of Hubbell leaped 20 feet 10 inches.

Other leading broad jumpers of the week included Kildahl, Benson; Gustafson, Holdrege; Pflug, Valley; Rutan, Wilsonville Lawton Arapahoe; Ball Fremont; Lashmett, Newport; Barnhart, Cambridge, Carlson, Sidney.

Even Time In Century.

Rottenhouse of Taylor was credited with a 10-second hundred yards dash during the Loup Valley meet at Ord. McCloughan, Mason City, and Swiatoviak, Huntley, received marks of 10.2 seconds and Woolery Hastings, Forom, Curtis, and Pounds, Rosalele, made the distance in 10.4 seconds.

Swartz of Jackson turned in one of the best 220-yard performances of the season when he won the furlong in 23 seconds during the dual meet with College View. Strolz, Moorefield, Kinney, Walthill, Gorton and Dunbar, were only a tenth of a second slower.

Kirby, Adams half-miler, who placed in the state meet last year, ran a 51.6 quarter-mile at the Mudecas meet at Hickman and then came back to step the half mile in 2:11. Other leading quarter-mile performances of the week included those by Stover, Endicott; A Babendure, Fremont; Henderson, Auburn; Rosenbaum, Omaha Central.

Walker of Bassett is one of the few prepsters this year to get under 2:10 in the half-mile. He did 2:07.5 last week. Cross of Hastings and Fritsch of Omaha Tech were clocked in under 2:12.

Milers continued to show improvement, with King, Maywood, doing 4:52. Others under 4.55 were J. R. West, Fairbury, and Cross, Hastings. Those under even time included Treadgill, Omaha Tech; Meissner, Omaha South; Jurgens, Omaha Central; Morey, Palisade; Rosengartner, South Sioux City, while those close to five minutes were Johnson, Alliance, Edwards, Santee; Sutorius, Humboldt and Cowell, Peru.

Trumble In Spotlight.

Trumble of Cambridge continues to blaze trail for the hurdler. He ran the 120-yard highs in 15.8 seconds and 16.5 seconds last week and was clocked in 26.3 seconds for the 220-yard lows.

Lampe, Pender, and Taylor, Bayard, did 17.1 second; Sheely, Belevue, was timed in 16.3 seconds and Burns, Oakland, was credited with 17.4 seconds. Low hurdle marks of importance include 27 seconds by Littlejohn, Mitchell, and 27.4 seconds by Ninger, Humboldt.

Alliance broke in with a surprise by winning the Western Nebraska conference, after a spirited brush with Bayard. Gothenburg ran true to form in capturing the Southwest conference crown. Tekamah won Tri-Valley honors and Arcadia chalked up another Loup Valley victory.

Pender won permanent possession of the Logan Valley trophy by edging out Walthill and Winnebago. Hastings and Moorefield were the Seven Valley winners. Auburn ran away with the Southeast Nebraska conference compet and Arapahoe won an interesting Mid-Valley meet. Humboldt retained its leadership in the Richardson county Little Ten meet. Hardy nipped Chester in the Deshler invitational. Table Rock won the Mudecas trophy and Clay Center copped Clay county honors. North Bend was supreme in D-D-D circles; Cordova carried off Little Blue laurels at Goehner. Butte was best in Boyd county and Huntley, paced by Watts and Swiatoviak, won the Harlan county meet. Moorefield was the Hayes county winner and Santee led the Knox county teams. Fullerton won the Pla-Loup cup and Norfolk won it's home invitation meet. Their scores last week:

MAX ON HAND TO START TRAINING

NEW YORK, April 30—(AP)—Max Baer, arrived today from California to begin training for his coming heavyweight title bout with Champion Primo Carnera June 14.

Grinning and affable, Baer alighted from a Chicago train to receive an affectionate embrace from his father, Jacob. Alongside his father and his brother, Buddy, who sparred with him on an exhibition tour, the heavyweight did not appear as large as he does in the ring. Both outweigh him some 50 pounds and tower inches above him.

Baer's training plans are not yet complete, but he porbably will set up a camp at Atlantic City, where he prepared last year for his bout against Max Schmeling, the fight which put him in the front row of heavyweight challengers.

Carnera also probably will train in New Jersey, at Pompton Lakes.

Champion Grows Whiskers.

GREENVILLE, Minn., April 30—(AP)—Primo Carnera, giant of the prize ring, broke camp this morning, after nearly a month of training in the woods bordering Moosehead lake, and started on the return trip to New York. He cut short his taining here to confer with managers and promoters of the championship fight with Max Baer in June. Carnera and his party are expected to reach New York tomorrow.

WOMAN HITS PINS FOR 712 SERIES

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 30—The first series above 700 ever rolled in a women's International Bowling Congress circles topped the efforts of several star squads in the tourney here over the week-end. Miss Marie Clemensen of Chicago hit 712 pins with games of 259, 190 and 263 to set an all-time congress record and take over first place by an even hundred pins over Mrs. Susie Springmann of Louisville, Ky., the previous leader.

PESEK CONCEDES HUNDRED POUNDS

With an all-heavyweight cast that finds John Pesek meeting Tiny Roebuck in the main go, the Shrine Athletic club's second venture in the rassling business, to be staged Wednesday night at the fair grounds coliseum, has all the earmarks of a bangup show.

JOHN PESEK

There's Pesek, the veteran heralded by many fans as the greatest in the game; Roebuck, the 305-pound man mountain; Big Bad Pat McGill, the Wisner giant, and Jean Le Deaux, a newcomer, one-time Canadian champion, and the preliminary boys, Mike Markoff and Bill Thornton, both of whom were good enough to have appeared here as main-eventers.

Pesek is a better wrestler than Roebuck, but whether the Ravenna Tigerman can manhandle a mauler with a weight advantage of a hundred pounds remains to be seen.

Roebuck Gets Revenge.

Roebuck was all even with Pat McGill here a month ago and then lost the match when Referee Charlie Loch forfeited the bout to the Wisner wheezer. A week or so later McGill was defeated in straight falls by the Indian in a finish match at Kansas City.

Little is known of Le Deaux, except that the Montreal scissors specialist has met all the big boys in the game, achieving particular recognition in his bout with Gus Sonnenberg.

Markoff the Russian, is a clever, hard working grappler. He is a tall, well built lad, and looks more like a boxer than a grappler. Thornton is just the opposite. Wild Bill has a bigger neck than McGill and is rated as tough customer, with strength to spare.

American Golfers At St. Andrews, Scene of Walker Cup Matches

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, April 30—(AP)—The American Walker cup team drove, 1.148 golf balls into the ocean on the trip across the Atlantic. Today, Captain Francis Ouimet and his mates prepared to start practice over St. Andrews, world-famous links, where the mortality rate for golf pellets, although high, wouldn't be quite so excessive.

Eastward Crossing Complete.

The team of nine completed the eastward crossing las night. Tired, but confidently looking forward to the international matches forward to and 12, they arrived at this ancient golfing cener shortly before midnight.

Henry Gullen, secretary of the Royal and Ancient club of St. Andrews, ruling body of British golf, met the visiors at Londonderry and escorted them to St. Andrews. Despite the fact that the Caledonia reached Londonderry at 6 a. m. Sunday morning, several members of the team were on deck.

"We don't usually get up so early," said Harold W. Pierce, treasurer of the United States Golf Association, "but some of us wanted to see he famous Irish scenery."

Driving practice off a special mat on deck kept the team members in shape on he trip across, even though the cost in golf balls did go over the 1.100-mark.

The team, in addition to Ouimet, includes Johnny Goodman and George Dunlap, American open and amateur champions respectively, Chandler Egan, Max Marston, Gus Moreland, Johnny Fischer, Jack Westland and Lawson Little.

Tournament Drawings.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, Apil 30—(AP)— Members of the American Walker cup team, who arrived here last night, and the usual contingent of American tourist amateurs are among the 225 entries announced today for the British amateur championship at Prestwick, Scotland, starting May 21.

Captain Francis Ouimet of the Walker cup men and his teammate, Gus Moreland, will clash in the very first match, meaning that one American will be eliminated from the title chase.

Chandler Egan and James Wallace of Troon.

George Dunlap, American amateur chanpion, and G. A. P. Walsh of Calcutta.

Johnny Fischer and Graham Patrick Stirling.

CORUM'S CHATTER

BY BILL CORUM.

NEW YORK, April 30—(INS)—Now I am going to write a few paragraphs about a lady whose name I do not know how to spell, a confusion in which, it appears, I am not alone.

For the purpose of what I have to say we shall call the lady Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane. From time to time in the public prints her first name appears as Isabel and then again as Isabella, and her last name with and without the "E." But "accuracy, accuracy, accuracy" is the motto of this bureau, so that it is willing to post any reasonable odds that the name Dodge, as it appears above, is as correct as Emily Post at a 4 o'clock tea.

Some of the confusion about the proper spelling of Mrs. Sloane's name no doubt springs from the fact that she races her horses under the name of the Brookmeade stable. Thus her name does not appear on the racing programs and the boys in the press coop give ti the old catch-as-catch can.

Which doesn't in any way alter the fact that when it comes to horse racing, all of Mrs. Sloane's spinach is four-leaf clovers. The lady just can't lose any more. Mrs. Sloane got into racing in a modest way a few seasons back and for a time, I believe, her luck was not all sevens and elevens.

But the last season, and thus far this, she has come with an amazing series of stake victories. My guess is that no stable the size of hers ever scored so many in such a short period. It has been amazing. And it isn't as if her horses were truly great. She hasn't had even one great one.

But last summer she went along winning classic stakes with Inlander, a tough little mud-runner but nothing more, and two or three Saratoga fixtures with Caesar's Ghost and Okapi, both lacking several parasangs of being another Man O' War.

And this spring she bobs up with Time Clock to be the surprise winner of the Florida Derby and then High Quest to win the Wood Memorial and Cavalcade the Chesapeake on the same day.

Thus it looks as though the British bred Cavalcade is a corking bet in the approaching renewal of the Kentucky Derby, if only because Mrs. Sloane is in the midst of this sensational victory streak.

At any rate, "Long Tom Silver" Shaw slashed the brown Brookmeade colt's future book price to 3 to 1 after his sparkling race in the Chesapeake, thus making him the favorite over Dixiana's receding Mata Hari.

The equine Lady Spy with the dizzy dogs is now held at fives, with Sir Thomas himself 6 to 1 and Colonel Bradley's fleet filly, Bazaar, at 10.

How the boys do fear Bradley in that Kentucky derby! Bazaar never has done anything to rate such a short price and, as all the world knows, the derby has been death on fillies. But the price-makers have learned to their sorrow to take no chances on "One-Two-Ed." Let him catch them out of line on a horse of his and he is likely to unbelt and start betting them serious money.

She is, I believe, in a hospital in Palm Beach, suffering from a fractured hip and every time the phone rings she has won another major stake. She was unable to see Time Clock's race in the Florida Derby and will not be in Kentucky when the veteran Bill Hamilton springs the latch on Saturday's Derby. But she doesn't mind so much, so long as the news from the front is good.

She knows that her interests are in capable hands. Bob Smith, grand old-timer, trains Cavalcade and his stablemates and Uncle Mack Garner boots them home. Although he has ridden a winner in virtually every other race of consequence on the American turf in his 20 years of chauffering the thoroughbred, Uncle Mack has yet to come bowling down there on the head-end in the Blue Grass Derby.

He is thus as excited as a kid over Cavalcade's chances—and cocky, too. After the Lancegaye colt's performance in the Chesapeake, he doesn't see how anything save bad luck can stop him at Louisville. The Britisher will run in the mud and he will run through the stretch and weight did not appear to bother him as a two-year-old.

But I don't know. In spite of all these things and the almost unbelievable Brookmeade luck, the Derby still looks to me to be as open as a race could conceivably be.

And, incidentally, I am told that if Riskulus, the hope of the far west, should win, Mark Kelly, the popular Los Angeles sports scribe will not have to work any more. Nor Clark Gable, the movie actor, either. Ray Long, who is in town from out there, says those Californians have kept right on sending it along on this one.

It's a little difficult for a fellow with the past performance sheets before him to see why. The chestnut son of Stimulus has a bit of foot—no small asset in the big Derby field, to that—but he has seemed to die on the vine in the stretch under such weights as 98 pounds, 100, 108, 110 and the like. Those extra 20 pounds are apt to sit heavily on his shoulders that last sixteenth. Nor is it my memory of Stimulus and his get that they fancy distance.

No. I'm afraid that Mr. Kelly still will be sitting at the typewriter batting out those sharp and salty paragraphs the night the Derby's over. And that Mr. Gable will continue smiling for the birdie. They say that Clark has scattered 18 G's around the country on Riskulus. That's more money than Norman Church's colt is worth.

Joe Vila, the dean of New York City sports editors and writers, has gone to cover the last assignment and this column is sorry. At 67, Joe Vila was a remarkable man. He looked, to begin with, at least 15 years younger than he was. His interest in what was going on in sports was as keen as that of any cub, his knowledge of all sports was great, his memory amazing, his background tremendous.

He was a link between the Sullivan-Corbett Brothers-Delehanty Garrison-Sloan era of sports and the Dempsey-Tunney Ruth-Terry Sande-McAtee era. And he could match what he knew about the past with that he knew about the present.

I saw Mr. Vila a week ago Saturday at Jamaica and told him he didn't seem to me to have changed a bit in the 15 years I'd known him. And he didn't. But one week later he was dead, for all of that.

Without knowing Mr. Vila intimately it always seemed to me the best indication of his character was the respect and affection those who worked under him had for him. And he for them. The few times I was around him he was never without a pleasant word for the work some younger writer was doing. It is a good sign of a man's character when those who work under him are sincerely whole-heartedly for him.

For as long as I have been in New York, Mr. Vila's name always appeared over his column. But when he was on vacation or on other rare occasions when he was not at his desk, Frank Graham wrote it. Thus it is assumed that he will succeed Mr. Vila. If so, I hope that I'll be the first to say that no finer fellow could be found for the task.

Canada Man First In Long Distance Walk

CINCINNATI, April 30—(INS)—Henry Cieman of Toronto captured the national A. A. U. 50,000-meter championship walk here Sunday. He finished the 31 miles, 125-yard course in four hours, 58 minutes and 55.2 seconds.

Ernest Crosbie of East Lansing, Mich., was second, with E. Kohler of New York third and Bill Chisholm of Los Angeles fourth.

Pocket Tourneys At Local Parlors

First of the three rotation pocket billiard tournaments sponsored in Lincoln by the National Billiard association swung into action Monday at the National Recreation Parlors, 1333 P street. Local cueists will be competing Tuesday at Wood's Parlors, 138 South Tenth, and Wednesday at Brunswick Parlors, 143 South Eleventh. Afternoon competition will start at 2:30 and in the evening at 7:30.

All tourney matches will be partnership affairs, but players will not be permitted to pick their partners, that detail being decided in the opening match, when the makers of the one and ten balls will pair off as partners for tournament play.

By reason of this arrangement, the less expert players have the same chance as the good ones to share in the award of the two trophy cups at each three parlors. No entrance fee is charged against tournament contestants and admission to all matches will be free.

Cronin Hurls Scare Into His Veterans

WASHINGTON, April 30—(AP)—Joe Cronin's drastic shakeup of the Washington lineup appears to have been just what the Senators needed. Although only Ossie Bluege, of the three veterans lifted from the lineup, still remains on the bench, the scare Cronin tossed into his squad has shaken the Senators out of their lethargy and produced three successive victories. Their second 7-6 triumph in a row over the Philadelphia Athletics hoisted them above the .500 mark and into fourth place yesterday.

Cronin drove in the deciding runs with a single in the ninth after Jimmie Foxx had clouted his fourth homer with two on in the third and the A's had thumped "General" Al Crowder from the hill.

Friendly Society Renames Miss Briggs

Seventeen New Members Inducted At Meeting In Holy Trinity Episcopal Church.

Miss Mary Lee Briggs of Lincoln was re-elected president of the Lincoln diocese of the Girls' Friendly society and 17 new members were admitted at the annual meeting in Holy Trinity Episcopal church Sunday afternoon.

Other officers chosen are: Miss Jessie Brandell, Omaha, re-elected vice president; Mrs. Arthur Gray George, Lincoln, secretary; and Miss Eliza Camm, Omaha, re-elected treasurer.

The new members inducted are: Patty Cooper, Darline Leacock, Helen Leverton, Suzanne Hosburgh, Mary Black, Betty Fasbury, Dorothy Maly, Anna Margaret Linp, Mrs. Gray Cone, associate member: Mrs. Winifred Hall, associate member; Betty Rowland, Mary Austin, Virginia Smith, Elizabeth Hedge, Margaret Raffan, Effie McKee and Elizabeth Dolan. All the new members are from Lincoln. Rev. H. H Marsden, rector of Holy Trinity, was the principal speaker at the candle lighting ceremony, at which the new members were presented by Mrs. Robin Reid, branch president of the society. About 75 attended the ceremony.

Speaking upon the subject "The Dream of Mrs. Pilate," Rev. Marsden said that "woman's discernment has always been especially keen in matters of right and wrong."

'As outstanding examples of this," he continued, "we have the support of women for the child-labor amendment and her denunciation of "sweat shops." Woman has always been anxious for justice and human values, rather than for profit."

Bishop E. V. Shayler of Omaha, also spoke briefly.

Music for the service was provided by the Holy Trinity church choir. William Stiverson sang a baritone solo. Robert Mossholder played the organ accompaniment.

Following the service, a social tea for members and delegates was held. Mrs. J. L. Chamberlain and Mrs. C. E Abbott poured. Pauline Kauffman had charge. The tables were decorated in blue and white, the Girl Friendly colors.

Stocks End Month On Downward Slant, Virtually Ignoring Substantial Rally In Grains

Losses Range 1 to 3 Points

NEW YORK, April 30—(AP)—

Stocks ended the month on a downward slant today, virtually ignoring a substantial rally in wheat and corn. A sharp spurt off after the second hour, however, was followed by dullness. There was another relapse just before the close and final losses ranged from 1 to around 3 points. Transfers approximated 1,600,000 shares.

The major cereals ended with gains of 1 to 2 cents a bushel, apparently reflecting the closing of May contracts and further crop damage reports. Rubber developed strength, but silver sagged as legislative hopes for this metal dwindled. Cotton was nervous throughout. Prime investment bonds were steady, although secondary issues were in supply. International dollar rates were firm.

Most of the activity in stocks was accounted for by the so-called professionals. There was a scarcity of public or foreign participation. There was little news that might have stirred equities to travel in any direction. The ticker tape got behind several minutes in the first selling wave. The mining and metal shares were especially heavy. The "blue chip" Homestake appeared for the first time in a week or so with a loss of 23 points. U. S. Smelting dropped about 5 and American Smelting 2.

U. S. Steel developed weakness in the last-minute drive, losing more than 2 points. Others down 1 to 2 or more included Santa Fe, Chrysler, Allied Chemical, American Telephone, Johns-Manville, Columbia Carbon, National Distillers, Republic Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Commonwealth & Southern preferred, Armour preferred, Du Pont, Kennecott, American Bank Note, Montgomery Ward, Industrial Rayon, Celanese, Sears-Roebuck, Southern Pacific, Hoe Sound and Cocoa Cola. N. Y. Central, ex-rights, was down more than a point.

Nervous and erratic price movements characterized trading in the stock market today and the trend generally pointed downward.

Mild irregularity and dullness was the rule in the first hour or so. Then there was a rather sharp selling flurry which dropped quotations in most categories 1 to 2 or more points. The ticker tap got behind floor transactions for several minutes. The relapse was comparatively brief, however, and liquidation dried up as some rallying tendencies appeared.

There was little news of an emphatic nature and the majority of transactions were attributed to the so-called professions. Rubber was a strong spot in the commodity structure, but silver sagged. Wheat responded to further crop damage reports with the gain of a cent or more a bushel, but yielded part of this later. Other grains and cotton were hesitant. Bonds were mixed. A number of prime investment loans improved, but the secondary groups were reactionary. International dollar rates were narrow.

Shares of Firestone, Goodyear, Goodrich and U. S. Rubber were up fractions to about a point at one time, although they subsequently relinquished the greater part of their advance. The utilities held relatively steady, as did the alcohols. Commonwealth & Southern preferred was an exception with a loss of more than 2 points. U. S. Smelting declined 4 and other metals were a little heavy. Industrial Rayon, Columbian Carbon and Republic Steel preferred were down about 2 each. Issues off a point or more included U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Montgomery Ward, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, Celanese, Western Union, Santa Fe and Sears Roebuck. N. Y. Central, ex-rights, lost about a point.

Rubber futures got up a cent or more a pound on overnight word from London of the signing of an international 5-year agreement for the control of exports and production. Stocks of the rubber companies and tiremakers, however, were not especially strong at any time. Corporations with large inventories, of course, made the best showing, but opinions varied as to earnings under higher prices for raw material and the possibility that consumer resistance might enter into the picture.

Most market commentators, while taking an optimistic long-term view of equities, believed that, because of the open debate in congress on the stock exchange control bill; complications surrounding various labor controversies, and indications that some industries will soon begin to show a seasonal lag, development of any important buying psychology is not likely at the moment.

Analysts continued to emphasize the selectivity of the market, as a whole. It was reiterated that "just now it is not a stock market, but a market for stocks.".

With operations in the steel industry continuing to rise, the magazine "Steel" believes the peak of the upward movement may not be attained before June. During the past week, it was found, the rate of production went up 2 points to 57 per cent of capacity, equalling the high point reached last year in the third week of July.

"Underlying strength," the review adds, "is imparted by the fact hat in addition to the leading consumers' requirements for two or three months ahead, all steel users evidently have taken the opportunity to replenish or increase their stocks."

Further evidence of the substantial pick-up in business and industry during the past several months was seen in the reports of class 1 railroads for March. On the basis of reports at hand it was estimated that these roads during the month had net operating income of approximately $51,900,000, or 392 per cent over the 1933 period and 59 per cent above the 1932 month. The total was the best for any corresponding month since 1930, and indicates that the carriers not only covered their fixed charges in the month but had more than $8,000,000 for their preferred and common stocks.

The dollar was firm in opening foreign exchange dealings. The British pound was down ⅜ of a cent at $5.14⅜ and the French franc declined .00¾ of a cent at 6.64 cents.

Grain Values Take a Jump

CHICAGO, April 30—(AP)—

Wheat soared today to more than 6½ cents higher than last week's low point, with the northwest and southwest reporting prevalence of dust storms.

Concentrated buying of July delivery of wheat, representing the new 1934 crop, was an outstanding feature, and was attributed largely to sources northwest. Although some selling resulted from easiness of securities, the wheat market as a rule was thoroughly dominated by the unfavorable outlook for crops.

Wheat closed strong, 1⅛-2 cents above Saturday's finish, May 80⅜-½c, July, 78½-⅝c, corn ⅞-1⅜c up, May 45⅜-⅜c, July 48¼-⅜c, oats ¾-1⅛c advanced, and provisions varying from 12 cents decline to a rise of 5 cents.

Almost 2 cents a bushel gain in wheat values took place before selling to realize profits checked the advance. Helping the rally of the wheat market was a comprehensive report from a leading unofficial authority putting the 1934 probable United States winter crop yield at 494,000,000 bushels. This would be 5,000,000 bushels under the total indicated a month ago.

Apparent likelihood of scattered snowers northwest led at times to moderate setbacks from top prices. On the other hand, messages were at hand saying that although rain soon would cause considerable spring wheat crop improvement, the benefit would be by no means as great as last season when June 1 estimates averaged 270,000,000 bushels. It was emphasized that alter in the season the crop suffered 100,000,000 bushels loss from a subsoil moisture shortage not nearly as bad as the one existing at present. Corn and oats averaged higher, responsive to wheat strength.

Provisions were firmer, influenced by upturns of hog values and of grains.

Wheat futures purchases Saturday totaled 24,998,000 bushels, corn 10,785,000. Open interest in wheat was 96,706,000 bushels, and in corn 76,509,000.

About midsession, wheat was ⅜-¾c higher compared with Saturday's finish, and corn was ⅛c off to ⅛c up.

Corn receipts in Chicago today totaled 107 cars, a week ago 98, and a year ago 302.

New upturns in grain prices early today accompanied reports of widespread abnormally high temperatures and of unabated drouth with dust storms. All other factors were at least temporarily overshadowed by unfavorable crop developments. Opening unchanged to ½ cent higher, July 78⅜-⅝c, wheat afterward rose all around. Corn started unchanged to ⅛c up, and subsequently showed a general advance.

NEW YORK BOND REVIEW.

NEW YORK, April 30—(AP)—

High grade bonds were generally well supported today, but other sections of the domestic list had a distinctly heavy tone.

Selling was not particularly active in the semi-speculative classifications, but as in recent sessions markets were responsive to small offerings because of indifference of buyers.

U. S. governments, mostly inactive, were unchanged to 3-32s of a point higher. Prime corporate loans like American Telephone 5s, Santa Fe 4s and Union Pacific 4s were traded at or slightly above the finals of Saturday.

Under limited trading some loans of Alleghany Corp., Baltimore & Ohio, American & Foreign Power, International Telephone, Postal Telegraph, New York Central and St Louis-San Francisco fell back from fractions to around a point.

Price movements in the industrial department were mixed. Chile Copper 5s yielded half a point and Texas Corporation 5s eased a minor fraction. National Dairy Products climbed half a point on small transfers. Pacific Gas & Electric 5s, down half a point, performed less favorably than most other high priced utility bonds.

German government issues again accounted for a substantial part of the dealings in foreign loans, but reversing their course of Saturday, both the Dawes and Young loans lost a considerable amount of ground. The former gave up slightly more than a point against a 2 point loss in the latter.

French government bonds were moderately strong. Belgian 7s receded a point. Values showed small changes in other groups.

NEW YORK CURB REVIEW.

NEW YORK, April 30—(AP)—

Narrow price changes and dull trading were the features of today's curb market. Group movements were indistinct and small gains and losses were rather evenly distributed among the list's major divisions.

Turnovers of numerous leaders reached only nominal totals. Electric Bond & Share was fairly active at not much variation from Saturday's close. Northern States Power "A" reacted more than a point on its first sale. Other utilities were dull.

Mining and metal issues drifted. Newmont, Wright Hargreaves and Pioneer Gold showed minor reactions at times, while Lake Shore was quiet.

Industrial specialties displayed little trend. Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea firmed moderately, but Sherwin Williams was lower. Hiram Walker improved in the earlier transactions. Cord Corp. eased and Aluminum of America had a setback. In the lower priced brackets, West Virginia Coal rose more than a point. Oils were dull.

GRAIN NOTES

CHICAGO, April 30—(AP)—Weather conditions in the grain growing territory have displaced Washington developments as one of the leading influences in determining the market trend. The need of surface or subsoil moisture over an area of approximately 125,000,000 acres was regarded by the trade as a bullish factor that may start an important price change. Embraced in the drouth area were three Canadian provinces and parts of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Missouri, Eastern Indiana, Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Montana and North and South Dakota. Much surface moisture was lost this spring as the result of strong wind and dust storms.

Farmers have virtually completed plowing for the new corn crop, the development of which is menaced by the deficiency of subsoil moisture and growth. Crop observers pointed out, however, that there is still sufficient time for planting the grain to get a satisfactory yield if weather conditions are favorable.

Late reports indicated that the new oats crop also needed more moisture. The crop was said to have received a favorable start last week over a large part of the producing area because of early planting and a fair supply of surface moisture. New speculative buying of oats was reported during the week.

RAIL EARNINGS

NEW YORK, April 30—(AP)—The sharp upturn in business and industry during the past several months is exemplified by estimates that the net operating income for March of all Class 1 railroads, based on the reports of the first 58 roads, will show an aggregate of approximately $51,200,000 or 392 per cent above the 1933 month and 59 per cent over the corresponding 1932 period. The figure would represent an increase of $22,700,000 over the preceding February.

Gross revenues for all Class 1 carriers for March are placed at about $292,400,000 which would be an increase of 24.4 per cent over the 1933 month and 2.2 per cent higher than in March 1932. This total would also be about $44,000,000 higher than February's gross.

On the basis of these estimates, the Class 1 division would have net operating income for the first quarter of around $172,100,000, an increase of 230.6 per cent over the 1933 period and 71.2 per cent over the same quarter of 1932.

Visible Grain Supply

NEW YORK, April 30—(AP)—The visible supply of American grain shows the following changes in bushels: Wheat decreased 2,032,000; corn decreased 2,826,000; oats decreased 1,550,000; rye decreased 150,000; barley decreased $64,000.

TARIFF MEASURE HIT BY INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, April 30—(AP)—Bearing the surprising endorsement of the Hoover secretary of state—Henry L. Stimson—the administration's reciprocal tariff bill was criticised today by representatives of industrial interests on the ground it would impede recovery.

Harry L. Derby of New York, speaking for the Manufacturing Chemists association, told the senate finance committee the legislation would be the "greatest factor in stopping the progress of industry that could be done."

Hearings on the controverted bill, which already has been passed by the house, will terminate tomorrow. Senate democrats will meet tonight to unite their forces as far as possible behind the legislation.

Derby said the measure would retard progress just as the securities act held up industrial expansion.

"I'd like to have some one prove that to me," said Senator Barkley, democrat, Kentucky.

Derby protested against giving the president power to enter into tariff reduction agreements with other nations without submitting the facts to the senate for action and unless affected industries were granted a hearing in advance.

Escaped Illinois Convicts Flee on Train to Missouri

CHESTER, Ill., April 30—(AP)—Marked by their prison garb, two felons who wormed their way to freedom through a 14-inch sewer at the southern Illinois penitentiary, were hunted again today in southeast Missouri.

A few steps ahead of hundreds of possemen, Randol Eugene Norvell, life-term kidnaper, eluded his pursuers last night and boarded a train into Missouri.

With Norvell, arch-conspirator in the kidnaping last July of August Luer, 77, Alton banker and meat packer, was James O'Connell, convicted Effingham burgler. They escaped last Friday night.

Several persons saw the fugitives, still wearing their prison uniforms, board a south-bound Missouri Pacific freight train six miles north of Gorham.

After crawling 400 yards through the prison sewer, Norvell and O'Connell crossed the Mississippi in a rowboat, but early yesterday they stole a motorboat and doubled back into Illinois.

A fisherman saw them moor their craft and posses swung into close pursuit, only to lose the felons on the train. Reports to Warden J. E. Ragen indicated that the hunted men were not armed.

Roosevelt Establishes Committee to Provide National Land Program

WASHINGTON, April 30—(AP)—President Roosevelt today established a committee to provide a national land program.

The committee is to be composed of one representative of the interior and agriculture departments and a third from the federal emergency relief administration. They shall serve without compensation.

"It is deemed desirable and in the public interest that a comprehensive survey and study of our national land problems be made for the purpose of (1) improving practices in land utilization, (2) better balancing our agricultural production, (3) aiding in the solution of human problems in land use, and (4) developing a national land program."

Stock Exchange Ruling Restricts Specialists

NEW YORK, April 30—(AP)—Further steps to restrict the activities of specialists in stocks and bonds were announced today by the New Yofk stck exchange.

The governors, it was stated, have adopted a rule prohibiting transmission from the floor of the exchange names of firms bidding for or offering bonds. Several months ago the exchange prohibited specialist members from divulging information concerning the order books on various stocks.

BEEF PRODUCTION SHOWS INCREASE

CHICAGO, April 30—(AP)—Beef production in the United States today was estimated by the Institute of American Meat Packers to have increased in April compared with the same month last year.

Estimates also showed that the amount of beef processed was larger in April than in March, while production of pork exceeded in April that of March, but was smaller than production in April, 1933. Government statistics on meat tonnage for all packers will not be available for a week.

Meat packers, the institute's month-end review showed, are paying from 28 to 48 per cent more for heavy cattle than they paid a year ago. Lamb prices are 86 to 99 per cent above those of a year ago.

The review also showed sharp April advances in the price of beef from heavy steers.

Domestic and export trade in pork and its products was slow and most prices sifted a little lower than they were a month ago, but quotations were higher than a year ago.

TAKE YOUR TROUBLES TO MINERVA

Clinging Vines.

Clinging vines are hopelessly out of date. I wonder if they ever were truly as desired by men, as the novelists and other chroniclers of past periods, would lead us to believe. If so, the tastes of men have enjoyed a decided change.

A helpless attitude may temporarily attract a man, arousing his chivalry and stimulating his ego. But after a short time, the man wearies of the girl's clinging ways. He finds that her babyish appeal to him for help on every issue and every move becomes cloying and dull.

A man likes to serve the woman he loves—within reason. He likes to feel the big strong, safe-guarding male, too. But he doesn't care to believe that his sweetheart, or his wife, is a veritable dumbbell, unable to make her own decisions or use her own initiative.

Many a short-sighted man is charmed by the baby line from a girl even up to the altar. But I have yet to know of a case where he found it charming in the matter-of-fact, daily routine of marriage.

Sometimes a man thinks it's cute and endearing for the girl to cling to him in the water. But, after marriage, he prefers that she swim alone. If she hangs around his neck in the day-by-day affairs of marriage, his own progress is impeded and he is soon annoyed and irritated instead of charmed and delighted.

A man delights in performing little acts of chivalry for the woman he loves. But he likes to know that she has gumption and brains enough to run her own half of the partnership efficiently, smoothly and without fuss.

Lukewarm Lover.

Dear Minerva: I have been engaged to a man for almost three years. When he gave me my engagement ring, and we announced our engagement, we expected to marry in a few months. Then he decided to extend his course in college instead of going into the job waiting for him so we postponed our wedding for a year. I didn't mind that, for I admired his ambition and felt that he was doing the right thing. But now that he is earning a good salary, he always has some other goal to reach before we marry. Our last plans were for marriage this spring. Now he is interested in taking a trip of two months with some scientists, and consequently wishes to postpone our marriage until fall. The trip is doubtless a nice opportunity for him, but the postponement means further embarrassment and loneliness for me.

Moreover, the whole condition has placed me in the false position of woo-er rather than the wooed. I am the one who brings the conversation around to marriage. He never does, any more. He seems entirely content with his own affairs and knowing that I will always be waiting, when he wants to telephone me or drop in to see me. I believe that his ardor has cooled. I know that I am edgy and irritable, though I try so hard not to be.

Please advise me. I admire him for his ambitions, but feel that it is all wrong for him to shut me out of them. He acts as if marriage would be the end of all things for him instead of looking toward our union as being helpful and inspiring to him.

I was always very popular before our engagement. I don't doubt but that I still could be having a gay time if I were free. I'd rather be married to the man I love, but the position I am in is inglorious and unsatisfactory. What shall I do?—ALICE.

A.—Your engagement is dragging out entirely too long to be satisfactory to either one of you. An engagement protracted over such a long period is particularly unfair to the girl. The engagement ring holds other men at a distance. The girl is out of the running. Then, if later, the engagement is broken, it takes considerable time for the girl to renew her social contacts with old friends, or to make new friends.

I believe you should do one of two things. Either break your engagement, telling the man that you still love him but find your position to be intolerable, and that he may still have the right to come courting when he decides he is ready for marriage. In the meanwhile, you wish to be free to do as you please. Or, if you do not wish to break the engagement, lay it temporarily on the shelf. That is, declare your summer months as a playtime of freedom, since he is going to be away and you are weary and stale from the repeated postponements of the marriage, once planned with such enthusiasm. In either case, declare for yourself the right and intention to have other dates. And do so. You may find that your own love has grown threadbare. Or you may find that your fiance will be less lackadaisical if he realizes that he does not have a complete option on you, and is likely to lose you through his indifference.

Answered Briefly.

Eula: The job is very nice and I know it's hard to give up your salary and the extras that it buys for you. But I believe you should concede that your husband is right, and that you cannot make a real home when your interests are divided between two jobs. I think you should be happy that he feels as he does, and gladly give up your office work. Many husbands lean entirely too much upon the salaries earned by their wives and put the women in the unhappy position of being obliged to keep on working when they long for real home life.

Ted: I believe you should consent to the adoption of a child. You have been married twelve years and your wife is naturally very lonely for the babies which have not come.

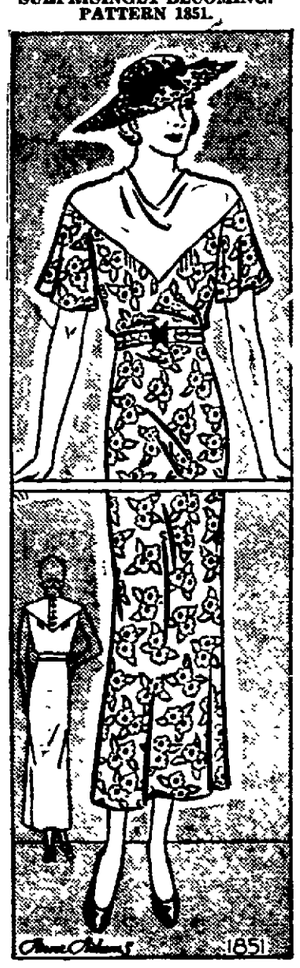

Art for White House

Selected by Mrs. Roosevelt, this painting, "Young Worker," is one of the canvases produced under CWA sponsorship which will be hung in the white house. It is the work of Julius Bloch III, of Philadelphia.

A COWL NECK IS SURPRISINGLY BECOMING. PATTERN 1851.

By Anne Adams.

Have you ever worn a cowl neckline? It really is astonishingly becoming. You know who originated the first one—do you not? Madame Vionnet the great French dressmaker—and it is one of the best things that wonderful woman ever sponsored. It is often extremely simple— just look at the sketch—but isn't it chic? And see the stunning way the yoke buttons down the back! Otherwise the dress it quite plain—but so well cut its plainness seems quite Parisian. A blue and white print with while yoke would be lovely—or it may be made entirely of one color.

Pattern 1851 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 Size 16 takes 3¼ yards 39 inch fabric and ¼ yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Jobless League Cannot Affiliate With Union, But Is Co-Operating

"At its meeting Friday, Unemployed and Employed league local No 1, relative to the offer of affiliation of the common labor union committee, adopted the following motion: 'Moved that this organization is always willing to cooperate with labor, but cannot affiliate.' The league constitution provides, 'This organization is not affiliated with any party; the league however works in conjunction with any organization that strives for better working conditions for the masses, and for a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.' Art. III, sec. 6 of the league's constitution provides, 'We favor union wages on all public works.' Any impression that the league, as a result of its action, is unwilling to co-operate with the Lincoln Central Labor union is erroneous."
